THE CROSBY OPERA HOUSE ART ASSOCIATION.

The sale of tickets has been so rapid as to warrant an announcement that the end is approaching, and a committee has been appointed on behalf of the people to superintend and conduct the drawing.

The subscription books, when closed, will be once transferred to the keeping of a committee, who will have sole charge thereof, and who will superintend the drawing and the awards. This committee has been selected from among our best citizens and wealthiest capitalists. Their names are a tower of strength to an enterprise that has enlisted the sympathies and active co-operation of art lovers throughout the Union. Such names as the following are a guarantee of good faith, and an assurance that nothing dishonourable will mar the brilliancy of a commendable and beneficent project. The committee is composed of the following gentlemen:

W. F. COOLBAUGH,.....President Union National Bank.
AMOS T. HALL, Treas. Chicago Darlington & Quincy R. R.
E. G. HALL,..... ..Hall, Kimbark & Co.
CLINTON BRIGGS,.....Ewing, Briggs & Co.
J. C. DOBE,..... ..President of the Board of Trade.
JAMES H. BOWEN,.....President Third National Bank.
JAMES C. FARGO... ..Agent American Express.
FRANCIS A. HOFFMAN,.....Ex-Lieut. Governor.
I. V. MUNN,.....Munn & Scott, Elevator.
J. A. ELLIS,.....President Second National Bank.

These names are a sufficient guarantee that the proceeding will be conducted with the most perfect fairness and integrity.

PROSPECTUS

IN the Spring of 1865, Mr. U. H. Crosby completed his magnificent Opera House, at a cost of $600,000. Owing to the great excess of this expenditure over the original estimates, resulting from the enhanced value of materials and labor during the war, from modifications and improvements suggested in the progress of the work, which were necessary to perfect his design, and from other unforeseen causes which it is unnecessary to state, Mr. Crosby became financially embarrassed, and only succeeded in his purpose of giving to Chicago this noble work of art at the sacrifice of his fortune

This reverse having made the sale of the property necessary, the friends of Art in this and Eastern cities have urged the idea of making its disposal the basis of a National Distribution of Paintings and Engravings, upon the Art Union plan. The suggestion met with the approval of gentlemen of prominence in business circles here, and led to the subscription, by a number of the leading citizens of Chicago, of a large fund for the institution of the "Opera House Art Association," the objects of which should be the realization of the original cost of the Opera House, and the distribution of a large collection of Paintings and Engravings of value, selected from the works of the most eminent artists of America. This plan has received the most generous co-operation and support of the leading American Artists. They have signified their appreciation of Mr. Crosby's interest in Art, and of his sacrifices in its behalf, by contributing to the enterprise many of their finest works at such a large reduction from the market value of the Paintings as to ensure a handsome fund for the benefit of Mr Crosby. The Engravers and Publishers have earnestly joined with the Artists in a similar liberality, and have furnished the plates and the immense supply of Engravings requisite for distribution at a price which leaves a most liberal sum as a compliment to Mr. Crosby, while the public will receive the Engravings at a cost not greater than the regular subscription price. It is proposed to award the Opera House and Paintings as premiums to members of the Association; the OPERA HOUSE BEING OFFERED AS FIRST PREMIUM. Thus securing an advantageous sale of the property, at its actual cost, to Mr. Crosby, and in a manner which will at the same time promote the very object of its erection—the advancement of American Art.

In acquiescence with this suggestion, "The Crosby Opera House Art Association" has been formed upon the following plan ·

FIRST :

There will be issued to members certificates for 210,000 Shares at $5 each, numbering from 1 to 210,000 inclusive, which entitle the holder to receive one or more of the first-class Steel Engravings hereinafter described, a share in the award of Premiums, AND FREE ADMISSION TO THE GALLERIES OF THE ASSOCIATION UNTIL THE AWARD TAKES PLACE.

SECOND :

There will be awarded among the members as Premiums,

The

CROSBY OPERA HOUSE & LOT ON WHICH IT STANDS

Erected at a cost of Six Hundred Thousand Dollars, together with all the splendid Stage Scenery, Machinery, Furniture, Fixtures and Accessories,—and

Three Hundred Choice and Valuable

OIL PAINTINGS,

By the first American Artists, among which are:

BIERSTADT'S GREAT PAINTING, entitled,

"THE YOSEMITE VALLEY,"

Valued at Twenty Thousand Dollars!

A magnificent Landscape, about 8 by 11 feet in size.—Now on exhibition at the Crosby Art Gallery.

CROPSEY'S GREAT WORK, ENTITLED

"AN AMERICAN AUTUMN,"

Valued at Six Thousand Dollars.

A glorious Autumnal Landscape, about 8 by 14 feet in size, and the original from which the Chromo Engraving, printed in colors exclusively for the Association, was taken.—This fine work is on exhibition at the Gallery of the Association in New York.

And many others.

Full Catalogues of which will soon be issued. This splendid Gallery, embracing specimens of nearly all the leading Painters in the country, and illustrating nearly every school of American Art, will also comprise the entire private collection of Mr. Crosby, (including those well known and favorite paintings, the "SCHOOL EXAMINATION," "DOUBLE TREAT," and "SELECTING THE BRIDAL DRESS.") Also

The Original Life-size Bust of ABRAHAM LINCOLN, from Life.

Executed in the purest Carrara Statuary Marble, by L. W. VOLK, to which has been assigned a place in the World's Exposition, to be held at Paris in 1867. Valued at Two Thousand Dollars.

Now on exhibition at the Crosby Art Gallery.

Note.—Mr. Volk has generously assented to the purchase of this splendid work by the Association, trusting that the person to whom it shall be awarded will consent to its being exhibited at the "World's Exposition" as intended, with proper security for its safety.

In order that every Certificate shall entitle the holder to a premium in the award, the Association will, in addition to the 303 premiums enumerated, award to every member, who shall not have received one of the same, an engraving of the Opera House.

 To enable the public to judge for themselves of the great merit of these Paintings, the entire collection, by far the largest and most valuable ever offered by any Art Union, will be placed on exhibition until the award takes place, a part, alternately, at the Crosby Gallery, in the Opera House, Chicago, and at the Art Institute, 625 Broadway, New York, the holders of Certificates being entitled to admission, free of charge.

Order of Issuing Certificates of Membership.

For $5, One Share or Certificate of Membership

is issued, and with it one of the following beautiful Steel Engravings :

"THE LITTLE WANDERER,"

From the original, by the eminent Artist, THOS.
FAED; or

"GATHERING APPLES,"

A charming Rural Scene, from the original,
JEROME THOMPSON.

For $10, Two Shares or Certificates are issued, with which the holder receives the superb Steel Engraving of the American Authors,

"Washington Irving and his Friends at Sunnyside."

from the great National Painting, by DARLEY &
SCHUESSEL

For $15, Three Shares or Certificates

are issued with which the holder receives the charming Allegorical Engraving on Steel entitled

"MERCY'S DREAM,"

From the original, by the great American Artist,
D. HUNTINGTON.

For $20, Four Shares or Certificates are issued, with which the holder receives the superb Chromo Engraving, printed in colors, and issued exclusively by the "Art Association,"

"AN AMERICAN AUTUMN,"

By the celebrated Artist, J. F. CROPSEY.

For $50, Ten Shares or Certificates are issued, with which the holder receives a choice ARTIST PROOF of either one of the following subjects:

- "Washington Irving and his Friends."
- "Cropsey's American Autumn,"
- or "Mercy's Dream."

Artists Proofs are the very first impressions taken from the plates, are limited in number, each one being retouched and signed by the Artist, making them rare and desirable.

NOTE.

The plates of the Engravings having been secured by the Association on the most liberal terms, they are enabled to offer entirely new works at the lowest publishers' rates.

Thus it is seen that all purchasers of the above engravings receive at once the value of their money, and in addition a certificate in the award of premiums, and free admission to the Art Galleries.

THE FIRST PREMIUM,
CROSBY'S OPERA HOUSE,

Is situated on Washington Street, with a frontage of 140 feet, by 180 feet in depth, five stories high, with Mansard Roof. It is of Athens Marble, in the modern Italian style, and is conceded by all, to be one of the finest buildings in America. Four spacious stores, each 30 by 180 feet, two on each side of the grand and imposing entrance to the Opera House, divide between them the first story of this matchless temple of art. The remaining floors are occupied by offices and studios. The annual rental of this portion of the building, exclusive of the Opera House proper, is at present $30,000.

The Studios are connected with one of the finest Art Galleries in the country, known as the "CROSBY ART GALLERY," and form one of the most agreeable attractions which Chicago offers.

Of the Auditorium of the Opera House no description can be attempted here. It is impossible to convey to those who have not viewed it, any adequate idea of its exceeding richness and beauty. It is pronounced by all to be the finest in the world.

The Premiums will be ready for delivery immediately upon the result of the award being known; and the person by whom the FIRST PREMIUM is drawn, will receive a CONVEYANCE

IN FEE OF AN UNINCUMBERED TITLE TO THE CROSBY OPERA HOUSE, subject only to the existing leases, the rents to accrue to the person to whom the property shall be awarded from the day upon which the drawing takes place. Information relative to the title and legal arrangements will be furnished on application at the Real Estate Office of Messrs. REED & AYRES, Chicago.

While the primary objects of the undertaking are those already mentioned, there is another of more general interest which would be attained by its successful issue, namely: the developing of a taste for the fine arts by the distribution of so large a number of first-class Paintings and Engravings. It is not designed in this Prospectus to go at length into the advantages of fostering and extending a love for the beautiful in art or in nature. It may, however, be suggested, that it is by actual contact with the works themselves that such tastes are most surely cultivated, and this single reflection should insure to the project the sympathy and active co-operation of all who recognize this truth.

The following letter is subjoined as an evidence of the deep interest taken by the Chicago public in the success of the enterprise, and of the warm approval of the plan by gentlemen of high commercial and personal standing.

CHICAGO, ILL. June 1st, 1886.

U. H. CROSBY, Esq.

DEAR SIR—We have been pleased to learn that you have decided to adopt the "Art Union" principle in the disposition of your Opera House.

While we should be glad to know of your success in such an enterprise, under any circumstances, it would add greatly to our gratification to reflect that, in accomplishing your own wishes, you had given additional impetus to the development of aesthetic taste amongst us. That this would be only the natural result of the distribution, as proposed, of a large number of first-class paintings and engravings, we have no doubt and we congratulate the public upon this fact, as well as upon the no less important one that they possess in your own well established integrity satisfactory guarantee that the enterprise will be fairly and honorably conducted.

With every wish that you may succeed, we are, dear sir,

Yours Very Truly,

NOTICE.

In ordering Certificates, please name Engraving desired. If the Engraving is to be forwarded, to insure its safety, enclose nine cents in stamps for tubing. Send Draft, Post Office Money-Orders, or Greenbacks, with address of Town, County and State carefully written, as every Certificate is fully registered.

To those persons who wish to select particular numbers, the Actuary desires to say that it is found to be impossible to issue certificates otherwise than in regular rotation. The certificates are divided between the principal office in Chicago and the Eastern Agency in New York — every alternate five thousand numbers being reserved for sale in the New York office, from which they are distributed to sub-agents in every Eastern city and town. Those retained here are distributed in like manner from New Orleans to Montreal. They are selling very rapidly, rendering it impossible, with any attainable clerical force, to maintain a reliable record of the unsold numbers.

What the Press say :

THE OPERA HOUSE.—It may not be unknown to many of our readers that for some time past the friends of Art in this and Eastern cities, have urged upon Mr. Crosby, the idea of making the disposal of his Opera House the basis of a great National distribution of Paintings and Engravings, upon the "Art Union" plan. The suggestion has met with the approval of many of our leading citizens, and a movement set on foot by gentlemen prominent in business circles on 'Change, which is now progressing, has already been productive of a large fund, subscribed for the purpose of carrying this brilliant project into execution. Mr. Crosby has yielded to this suggestion, and arrangements are now rapidly making to put it into immediate effect.

We can best give some notion of the magnitude of this enterprise by stating that it proposes not only the distribution of several hundred Paintings selected from the works of the most eminent Artists in the several schools of American Art, but also that of upwards of $250,000 worth of choice engravings, beside the awarding of the Opera House as the first premium.

This simple announcement will awaken in every circle of our city—and indeed throughout the whole country—the generous desire which has been long eager to aid Mr. Crosby in the reverse which has overtaken him while giving to Chicago its most splendid ornament.

We predict for this enterprise a rapid and brilliant success.—Chicago Times.

From New York Leader.

The enterprise which Mr. Crosby has inaugurated is quite above the common order. It is indorsed by the principal citizens of Chicago and by our leading artists, and there can be no question that it will be honorably and legitimately conducted. It is designed as a popular medium to beautify the homes of the people by presenting them with fine engravings. If Mr. Crosby has chosen this novel plan to relieve himself from temporary financial embarrassments, that does not affect the benefits which must arise from the circulation of so many artistic pictures among those who do not usually spend their money for works of art.

From New York Mercury.

There can be little wonder that the artists of the United States have already marked their cordial approval of so grand a plan, and we conceive that this with the letter endorsing it by the principal citizens of Chicago, will at once remove any doubt respecting the genuineness of the Association, which might otherwise probably be entertained. The venturesome will at once take shares in the Crosby Art Association, while those who like chance to be assisted by certainty will do so, because they are certain of at once realizing the value of the $5 which they invest.

From Boston Traveler.

Attention is called to THE CROSBY OPERA HOUSE ART ASSOCIATION.—Owing to the embarrassments arising from the excess of Mr. Crosby's expenditures in erecting the Opera House at Chicago, Ill., which has rendered the sale of the building necessary, numerous friends of art suggested the plan of making it the ground work of a grand Art Union, which was eagerly accepted by many of his fellow-citizens and subsequently by leading American painters and engravers, and it is believed that Mr. Crosby will be repaid for his immense outlay, and the art of America permanently benefited.

From New York Courier.

A CHANCE FOR THE SPECULATIVE.—Any person who may be disposed to invest $5 without any chance of not receiving the value of his money, and the agreeable prospect before him, of, perchance, in a few months, retiring to rest a poor man, and awaking more than half a millionaire, may now do so by visiting or writing to the Art Institute, No. 625 Broadway, and taking a share in the Crosby Opera House Art Association.

The Chicago Times says:

Nothing so grand as this project was ever before conceived. There never was one which involved so much property, and again, there never was another one in which the public could invest their money with the same certainty that the transaction would be conducted by honorable men. As will be seen, Mr. Crosby has submitted his plan to the best men in Chicago, and they give it a cordial and unhesitating indorsement. There can be nothing surer than the fact that the operation is in honorable hands, and that every dollar will be as properly accounted for as if deposited in a bank.

From New York Sunday Times.

Mr. Crosby has apparently, in building the Opera House in Chicago, miscalculated its cost, and been necessitated to seek for some mode to relieve himself of the embarrassment entailed upon him. But the cost of the Opera House was $6,000,000, and the individuals who are disposed to purchase such a property, at such a price, are rare, even when it accompanies stores, offices and studios rent for $30,000. What, in this case, was to be done? Mr. Crosby, or those who may possibly be associated with him, are sagacious men. They have originated this "art association"—an association so broadly and liberally arranged that it can scarcely fail of ensuring itself a positive success. In the first place, they offer to every subscriber, not alone a share in the Opera House, with the chance of ultimately becoming its sole proprietor, but a possibility of obtaining also other very valuable, if not as valuable, premiums. These consist of paintings by all the leading artists of the country, amounting in number to more than three hundred. The first seven of these are in actual value $48,000. That this is a positively genuine offer no doubt can exist.

From New York Atlas.

THE CROSBY OPERA HOUSE ART ASSOCIATION.—It is perhaps well for the public that speculative men of means sometimes get into difficulties. At any rate it is so in the present instance. Mr. Crosby, of Chicago, having a great deal of cash, much love of art in general and a special taste for music, determined upon building a magnificent opera house in that city. He did so, and common consent allowed it to be the first structure of its class in the great West. The auditorium was princely, the exterior was noble, and the stores, offices and studios in the front of the building were the finest in Chicago. On its completion, owing to losses in business, perhaps, and to the increase in the cost of labor and material certainly, he found that he had exceeded his means. His wealthier fellow citizens, however, who knew the man and appreciated his public spirit, determined to see him through his difficulties. In conjunction with him they have therefore organized an association, for which we predict the most complete success. The Crosby Opera House Art Association is an Art Union upon the largest scale. A share is only $5, and may be purchased at the Art Institute, No. 625 Broadway. Go then, buy your share, win, and retire from active life, well-nigh a millionaire.

PLAN OF DRAWING.

The PLAN OF AWARD adopted is the following 210,000 Numbers, representing the certificates issued, will be placed in one wheel, and Three Hundred and Two Tickets inscribed with the name of the premiums, to wit The Opera House, Three Hundred Paintings, the Bust of Lincoln, will be placed in another.

From these wheels a Number and a Premium will be drawn simultaneously, the number drawn, in each instance, taking the premium drawn with it.

The Subscription Books will close on Saturday, the 22d of September, 1866, and on the 1st of October the AWARD OF PREMIUMS will be publicly made at the Opera House.

The Subscription Books, on being closed, will be placed in the hands of the following gentlemen, who have kindly consented to act as the Chicago Members of the Committee, to conduct the Award of Premiums:

|                     |                                         |
|---------------------|-----------------------------------------|
| W. F. COOLBAUGH,    | President Union National Bank.   |
| AMOS T. HALL,       | Treasurer C., D. &amp; Q. R. R.  |
| E. G. HALL,         | Hall, Kimbark &amp; Co.          |
| CLINTON BRIGGS,     | Ewing, Briggs &amp; Co.          |
| J. C. DORE,         | President of the Board of Trade. |
| JAS. H. DOWEN.      | President Third National Bank.   |
| JAMES C. FARGO.     | Agent American Express.          |
| FRANCIS A. HOFFMAN, | Ex-Lieut. Governor.              |
| I. Y. MUNN,         | Munn &amp; Scott, Elevator.      |
| J. A. ELLIS,        | President Second National Bank.  |

These gentlemen, together with such others from different parts of the country as they may add to their number, for the purpose of fairly representing the shareholders at large, will have the sole management of the award in all its details.

Special Card to the Reader.

The CROSBY OPERA HOUSE ART ASSOCIATION is no gift enterprise, and must not be confounded with Dollar Gift Concerts which have been advertised to take place at the Opera House without the authority or consent of the Proprietors.

EDWARDS' NEW CITY DIRECTORY OFFICE, }
73 Dearborn St., August 1st, 1866. }

IN the preparation of their Classified Business Directory, as well as their City Directory lately issued, and which has given such general satisfaction, the publishers have spared neither labor nor expense. Their principal aim has been to compile and publish a Directory, which, on account of its accuracy, completeness, and the shortness of time occupied in its production, shall stand unrivaled as a book of reference for the Merchant, the Trader and Traveler of the City, as well as Country. They are conscious of success in these particulars, and feel great satisfaction in presenting to their patrons the result of their labors.

The publishers particularly recommend strangers, and the public generally, to look over the list of advertisements contained in this Directory. They have been engaged for many years in the business of publishing Directories, and during that period have learned much of the principles which animate human nature, and govern the actions of that portion of our business men, who seek the channels of the press to spread before the public the nature of their trades and occupations. The public have already learned that the man who openly comes before the world, making free use of printer's ink in advertising his business, desires, with perhaps here and there an exception, to establish a good name, and become noted for his fair dealing in connection with his business. His object is of course to give general satisfaction, and hence in giving publicity to his name, he will be careful not to tarnish it. It has become a truism, that those who advertise liberal, are the most liberal dealers, and we point with pride to the firms which have given us their names and business for publication, as evidence of this fact; and any one at all acquainted with Chicago, in looking over our advertisers, will be convinced that our theory is a correct one, and that it is the honorable, the enterprising, the liberal, who advertise.

We invite a critical examination of this Work, in the confidence that it will commend itself to the public as superior in every respect to any of the kind ever issued in the West.

RISE, PROGRESS AND GROWTH OF THE GARDEN CITY OF THE WEST FROM 1669 TO 1866.

CHICAGO, the young giant city of the Northwest, is located, as all the world knows, on the southwestern shore of Lake Michigan, and on both sides of the Chicago river, and is now the center of a railway system as truly vast as it is astonishing. What stranger, unacquainted with the history of our city, could believe that but little more than thirty years ago, where now stands the magnificent marts which commerce has erected, was the hunting ground of the savage, and that, in the crowded and busy streets—replete with evidences of wealth and luxury—the sons of the forest sounded the hideous war whoop. But so it is. Let us look back and trace, briefly, for the benefit of the present and future generations, the history of the rise and progress of this young giant, whose marvelous growth astonishes and amazes even those familiar with the histories of American cities. The first white men to haul up their boats upon the lake shore and upon the river banks, and to pitch their tents upon the prairie, as yet trodden only by the feet of the red man, and by the game he pursued, were the French Jesuit missionaries and fur traders, under the leadership and guidance of the celebrated Indian trader, Nicholas Perrot, who was also acting as the general agent for the government in the western country. This was in the latter part of the year 1669. All this territory was, at that time, in possession of the Miami tribe of Indians; but subsequently the great and powerful tribe of the Pottowatomies overcome the Miamis, and wrested their hunting grounds from them forever. In the year 1795 they became parties to the treaty with General Wayne, whereby a tract of land six miles square, at the mouth of Chickago (Chicago) river, was ceded to the United States,—the first extinction of Indian title to the soil upon which this famous city is built. For almost a hundred years, during the time of the French possession, and even after its cession to the English, Chicago had but little mention in history. Now and then a stray paragraph in some eastern News Letter or Gazette, barely mentioned the fact that at Chicago the adventurous traders struggled with the red men to maintain their foothold; and too often, alas! chronicling the lamentable fate of some daring hunter, whose adventurous spirit led him too far from the settlement, or the sadder end of some unprotected and defenseless family who fell victims to the scalping knife of the savage foe. It is only known, from incidental circumstances, that during the dark days of the French possession, there was a fort near the mouth of the river, that there were Indian villages amongst the lands and swamps of Calumet, and on the Des Plaines, and that the roving grounds of the Pottowatomies, from the head waters of the Illinois to the Chicago river, was the common portage for the trade and transit of the goods and furs between the Indians and the traders, and that the shipping point was from the port of Chicago. The few white men who were there, were there to trade with the Indians; not for the purpose of settlement. The gain from the traffic overbalanced all considerations of peril attached to it, and to those versed in Indian traffic the gain was of no inconsiderable amount. Craft met craft when necessary, and the pale face rarely failed to make the bargain to his own advantage. Wild and daring and adventurous as were the lives of these pioneers, little remains to us now of their deeds but tradition, and the iron hand of commerce has to-day blotted out of existence the last proof and record of their perilous lives, and they live only in the stray paragraphs of some humble chronicle, whose hoarded leaves are jealously watched by those who garner them among their treasures of the past.

This state of affairs existed until the close of the general western Indian war, soon after the termination of the war of the revolution. During the war the intrigue of the English was constantly exciting the Indians to acts of warfare to such a degree that, after peace was declared between the old and the new country, a general war of the Indians against the United States broke out. Then along the western border Indian warfare raged until 1795, when, having been signally defeated by General Wayne, the chiefs of the several tribes assembled, by his invitation, at Greenville, Ohio, and there effected a treaty of peace, thus ending the war in the west. By this important treaty numerous small tracts of land were ceded by the Indians to the United States, and among others was one described as "one piece of land six miles square, at the mouth of the Chickago river, emptying into the southwest end of Lake Michigan, where a fort formerly stood." This may be designated as the first "land sale;" and who then imagined it was the precursor to the magnificent present! To its participants no such ideas ever came; still they allowed but little time to pass before they thought best to enter into active possession, and in 1804 a fort was built on the spot by the government. The fort remained until 1816, when it was destroyed by the Indians, at the time of the great massacre which has blended with the name and fame of Chicago a chapter of romance so closely allied to history that it is hard to separate fact from fiction relative to that most bloody episode in the history of Chicago. This fort was called Fort Dearborn, a name which it retained during its existence. Its location was upon a slightly elevated point upon the south side of the river, near the lake shore; from its ramparts a good view could be had of the lake, the prairie extending to the south, the fringe of timber along the north branch and the south branch, and the white sand hills to the north and south, which drifted about, the sport of the lake winds. Up to the time of the erection of this fort, from the day the Pottowatomies drove the Miamis from the soil, no white man had ever made here a permanent home; the red man of the forest held undisputed sway and brooked no rivals. Very slowly gathered the infant colony around the nucleus of civilization formed by the garrison of the fort. A few families of French Canadians and half-breeds, none of whom possessed more than ordinary intelligence, gathered here, content, for the most part, with the profits arising from the Indian traffic which came to them. None, we believe, of the old settlers around the walls of old Fort Dearborn have descendants to claim their honors, but the KINZIE family,—the last link in the chain of civilization which admits of identity, the founder of which came here in 1804, the same year in which the fort was built. John Kinzie, then an Indian trader in the St. Joseph country, Michigan, in that year became the first permanent white resident of Chicago, and to him is due the honor of establishing many of the improvements which have made Chicago what it is. For a period of twenty years, he was, with the exception of the military, the only white inhabitant of Northern Illinois. Summer and Winter he traded and trafficked with the Indians, in whose good graces no man in the west ever surpassed him. From 1804 to 1820, the lake trade which centered in the port of Chicago, was carried on by one small sail vessel, coming in the Fall and Spring, bringing the season's supply of goods and stores for the fort, and taking away the furs and peltries which had accumulated during the Winter months. And thus began the commerce of the port of Chicago, and this was its extent for a period of over sixteen years. Mr. Kinzie pursued the business of fur trading until the breaking out of hostilities with the Indians, which resulted in the massacre of 1812. The friendly feeling which had been so assiduously cultivated between Mr. Kinzie and the Indians, preserved himself and family from the fate which befell his neighbors of the fort. They came out unharmed through the scenes of the bloody and relentless massacre. Removing for a time, in 1816 he returned to Chicago, and re-opened the trade with the Indians, remaining there until the time of his death, in 1828.

The county of Cook, in which the city of Chicago stands, was organized in March, 1831, and it then embraced all the tract of country now included in the counties of Cook, McHenry, Lake, Will, DuPage and Iroquois. It is instructive to the people of this day, who have seen the magnificence of the GIANT CITY OF THE NORTHWEST, to go back to those early days in the history of the infant, and contrast THEN and NOW.

The taverns of Elijah Wentworth, on the north side of the river, near the fork, and Mark Beaubien's, upon the east side of the river, immediately south of the fork, were the hostelries within whose gates the strangers who came to our settlement were entertained. For many years these two sufficed to give food, fire and shelter to all comers. The business of the place was centered in the following Indian traders: Robert A. Kinzie, near Wentworth's tavern, and a Mr. Bourisso, whose place of business was immediately south of Beaubien's tavern. Outside of this there was a log cabin near what is now the foot of Dearborn street, south side. J. B. Beaubien had his humble residence upon the present site of one of the most stupendous works in the city at this time: namely, the Illinois Central Railroad Depot. The above was the status of Chicago in March, 1831. On the 15th of July of same year, arrived the schooner "Telegraph," of Ashtabula, Ohio, bringing a number of families, who, however, did not settle in Chicago. It brought P. F. W. Peck, of New York City, who had a lot of assorted goods, for which he desired to find a market. Thinking he had gotten to it, he built a small log store near the fort, and thus made an important addition to the trade of Chicago. During the Fall emigration set in largely, and by the last of September the fort was filled with emigrant families, who had ventured to the great untrodden West to find a home. In November, the schooner Marengo arrived from Detroit, bringing a consignment of goods of great value to the population of the fort, from Oliver Newberry, a relative of Walter L. Newberry, the president of our Historical Society. There were great fears entertained of her loss, as during her passage a most terrible gale prevailed, but she arrived safely off the river, and landed passengers and cargo. During the succeeding Winter the fort was occupied by about four hundred souls, but they could not all be counted as residents of Chicago, as many of them intended to and did remove into the interior of the territory in the Spring. Their wants in the mercantile line were ministered to by R. A. Kinzie and Geo. W. Dole, who were then settled at the junction of the two branches,—then known as Wolf's Point. Will it be credited? these were the only merchants in Chicago thirty three years ago. What a subject for reflection is embodied within this simple fact, that thirty-three years ago this great city, which now stands at the head of western commerce, then was represented by two merchants, whose business was bounded by the humble walls of log cabins scarce larger than an ordinary sized sleeping room of the present day, and whose stocks of goods could have been easily packed upon a single dray. The history of the world affords no parallel to our solid and substantial growth and advancement in every branch of commercial enterprise, in the few brief years intervening between the days when a single schooner, scarce larger than a pleasure yacht of the present day, represented the lake commerce of this port, whose fleets now whiten every lake and almost every sea. Many additions were made during this year to the resident population, and a careful and thorough census might have resulted in showing a total of about one hundred souls. In order to accommodate this great one hundred, additions were now made to the list of mercantile houses, by the organization of the firms of Brewster, Hogan & Co., and Peck, Walker & Co., and the rush of business was doubtless satisfactory, for Mr. Peck commenced the erection of a frame store on the corner of what is now LaSalle and South Water streets, the lumber for which was brought from Walker's Mills, in Plainfield, which was then in Cook county. This is believed to have been the first lumber sawed in the county. About the same time G. W. Dole commenced the erection of a warehouse on what is now the southeast corner of Dearborn and Water street's. It was in this year that the foundation was laid of our immense packing business. To the enterprise of Mr. Geo. W. Dole, the packers of Chicago owe, at least, a grateful memory, as he was the pioneer of the business, packing the first beef and pork ever packed here, in the year 1832. He slaughtered some 150 head of cattle for Oliver Newberry, of Detroit. The cattle came from the Wabash valley, and they were slaughtered upon the prairie near the lake, about opposite where the Catholic Bishop's palace is now situated, at the corner of Michigan avenue and Madison street. The barrels in which the beef was packed had to be brought from Detroit, and to that place the beef was shipped the same Fall. Early in the winter Mr. Dole slaughtered and packed 338 hogs, which had also been driven from the Wabash valley. They were slaughtered in the back yard of his warehouse, and having no barrels to pack in, it was stored away in bulk till barrels could be made that Winter. This pork went to Detroit, as did also the beef, and from thence to the New York market. What it brought we have no means at hand to ascertain, except from inference. In an old book belonging to Mr. Dole, is an entry of the sale of a barrel of mess pork at $16, and a barrel of "one hog pork" at $14. And now as the year 1833 came on, the little colony began to attract attention. People from many different parts of the Union wended their ways to "Chicaugou." Commerce began to be anxious for a harbor here, and means were taken to bring the subject before Congress in such shape as would induce favorable legislation. After long discussions in both houses, which served to call attention to the fact that such a place existed, a bill was passed appropriating $30,000 for harbor improvements for the port of Chicago.

This action of Congress, as we have said, called the attention of emigrants to the place, and a new impetus was given by a large accession to our population, which, in the Spring of '33 numbered about one hundred and fifty. The work on the harbor was commenced in the same Summer, and pushed with commendable energy until the weather caused its suspension that Winter. In the Spring of '34, there was a great freshet, which effected more than the labors of man had been able to do, and the land was washed out from between the piers, and the harbor was open to lake commerce. This was the beginning of our present truly magnificent commerce, which now spreads itself over all our inland seas, and brings to our wharves the traffic of the world.

And now, as the sun of prosperity began to dawn upon the little settlement, and vitality enough was exhibited to warrant the important step, the people began to think themselves of sufficient importance to organize a town, that men might know them as citizens. The nucleus of a town was here: an estray pen, and a jail; both located near the fort. A coronor had also been found necessary, and he in all the full blown honors of his maiden inquest, of course, favored the organization. A meeting of the qualified voters was held July 22, and it was voted, by twelve persons, that it would be a rightful and proper thing to incorporate the town of Chicago. Only one man—R. E. Heacock, a "justice of the peace in and for Cook county"—voted against the incorporation. There were then twenty-eight legally qualified voters in Chicago, but all did not turn out to the meeting. The election for trustees of the new town was held on the 10th of August, and five were chosen, and the trustees met for the first time on the 12th August, at the town clerk's office. The corporation was not very extensive then, its territory comprising only about one mile square of prairie soil, and very nearly coincided with the area now bounded by Jackson, Jefferson and Ohio streets and the lake. And now, in the eyes of her own people, Chicago began to assume some importance, and the dominant race, which was yet Indian, began to feel the aggressive spirit of the white man which lives in and is animated by the arts of peace. The requirements of commerce and civilization demanded that the red man should find new hunting grounds, that the pale face might till the soil and navigate the waters of the land for his peculiar benefit. All the influence of the country was brought to bear, and after many proposals and much caucusing, and some "fire-water," the matter took definite shape and form by the cession to the United States of all the territory in northern Illinois and Wisconsin belonging to the Pottowatamie tribe of Indians, then numbering over seven thousand. The representatives of the United States, T. J. V. Owen, G. B. Porter and William Weatherford, displayed much sagacity and tact in this treaty, and it was finally signed on the 25th September, upon condition that the Indians should receive an annuity of $30,000, and that they should be conveyed to the country allotted to them beyond the Mississippi. On the first day of October, the train of teams, conveying over fifteen hundred squaws and papooses, started for its destination, and were forty days in reaching it. The land where they had hunted and fished, the scenes of their triumphs in battle, the ground wherein reposed the ashes of their kindred, a land their deeds had made historic, was left, but not without a pang. The stoical Indian suffers but makes no sign, and the braves who turned their faces to the setting sun and left the land their fathers had won in battle, felt no tears course their cheeks, but in many a proud and noble heart there was untold agony.

And now, the pen, mightier than the sword, had taken in at a trace almost a new world, and the white race were to possess it. The immediate impetus given to emigration was such that the news of the day and the demand of business men for an advertising medium brought out an aspirant for the honors which encircle the brows of the Press, in the person of Mr. John Calhoun, and he published the first number of the Democrat, on the 26th of November. He appears to have had the foresight and ability characteristic of his craft, as his first number contains an able article urging the immediate commencement of the Illinois and Michigan canal. The second number of the Democrat contains the advertisements of the most prominent business men of the town, John H. Kinzie, P. F. W. Peck, G. W. Dole, S. B. Cobb, John S. Wright, Philo Carpenter, Walter Kimball, R. M. Sweet, John Bates, A. Clybourne, Star Foote, E. S. Kimberly, S. D. Peirce, R. J. Hamilton and B. Jones. A great increase in the packing of beef and pork took place this Fall,—three thousand hogs and six hundred beeves being packed at the slaughter house of Mr. Clybourne. The Wabash valley still supplied all the cattle and hogs packed here. Business of every kind prospered during the Winter, furs and peltries came in from far off hunting grounds and were exchanged for all sorts of products, and in every branch expansion was seen and felt. And thus the town struggled on despite the mud and the sand, until the 4th of March, 1837, when the city charter was granted, an event which caused great joy to the people who had labored faithfully and well to build up the prosperity of Chicago. On the first Tuesday in May, 1837, the first municipal election was held, and Wm. B. Ogden was elected mayor. The first State census, taken in July, showed a population of 3,989 white persons; 518 of these were under five years of age; 77 colored; and the marine interest was represented by 194 sailors belonging to this port. There were nearly 800 voters,—only 707 of whom voted at the municipal election. So in a total population of 4,170 the ratio of males twenty-one years of age and upwards sufficiently proves that able bodied men were needed here to build up the future great metropolis of the Northwest. The census showed also that there were 398 dwellings, 29 dry goods stores, 19 grocery and provision stores, 5 hardware stores, 3 drug stores, 2 groceries (probably where liquid groceries were dispensed more particularly), 10 taverns, 17 lawyers' offices, and 5 churches. Congress made an appropriation of $40,000, this year, for the improvement and enlargement of the harbor, and this year the first cargo of wheat was shipped from Chicago. There were then no towering elevators lining the banks of the river, the first, and many a succeeding cargo of grain being gotten aboard ship in the old style, by the strong arms of men. Little did the shipper, or the consignee, imagine, as they adjusted the accounts of that cargo of wheat, that they had thus laid the foundation of the greatest grain trade in the world. From that time to this the motto of Chicago has been onward! Steadily and rapidly progressing, her prosperity has been unexampled, and through all the financial mutations witnessed in this country since '33—and they have been not a few—Chicago has progressed and waxed strong. The war, at first a sad drawback upon her business, soon became beneficial, inasmuch as it created increased demand for manufactures and produce, either of her own or of places which her great railway system made tributary.

A brief retrospect of the past year's business will amply suffice to convince the most skeptical of the rapid progress of Chicago in commercial prosperity, and a brief resume of the causes, natural and artificial, which combine to render her future as marked and certain as her past, may not be inappropriate. Situated, as she is, at the very head of the immense artery of lake and river navigation of America, with her web work of railways that extend and penetrate the whole land, rapidly increasing in number and capacity, her facilities are unequalled. The far-off western prairie finds its market as certainly as does the vast forests of Michigan and Wisconsin; the copper and iron region of the Lake Superior country, the lead mines of the Northwest, the coal fields of Illinois, all find here their best and most natural center. The millions of cattle and hogs who annually fatten in the great west, find their way to the slaughter houses of Chicago, and from thence they go to feed the world. All the agricultural and mineral wealth of the great West turns toward Chicago, as certainly as the needle to the magnet. The stupendous railway system whose heart lives and throbs here, and whose iron arteries pulsate with the intelligent and sleepless energy of tens of millions of producers and manufacturers, and with hundreds of millions of consumers, keep time and tune to the march of progress. And when the Pacific Railway shall be completed, and the iron band shall connect the far East and the far West together, a new and wonderful impetus will be found to push on our prosperity to a still greater and more extended progressiveness. Who that walked our streets thirty years ago could look upon them to-day without feeling that we hold within ourselves the seeds of greatness; seeds which, upon the broad field of the world, shall be sown far and near, that we may reap the harvest thereof. And who that to-day gazes upon our crowded, bustling thoroughfares, replete with all the elements which combine to make up a great and imperial city, can look forward thirty years and realize the city of that day. Confident in our strength we survey the great future hopefully—confident that in the commerce of the world the city of Chicago will, ere long, take a rank second to none upon the continent of America.

CURIOSITIES IN THE DIRECTORY LINE.

If possible, we shall publish a fac simile of the first Chicago Directory, in this work as nearly as possible in the style and form of the original. It will need but little labor to find out the names of persons entered therein, but it may be extremely difficult to locate them. For instance, "Mathias Paintor, laborer, home Dutch Settlement," is quite indefinite; "Jacob Veysel, home first ward," might give a stranger a bit of trouble. We see also that "William Toogood, farmer, resides Michigan avenue," and that "Henry Fairbourn" is a "blacksmith at Pierce's." The whole makes 84 pages our size. A small pamphlet published by David R. Griswold, in the month of July, 1843, entitled "Statistics of Chicago, Ill., together with a Business Directory and Mercantile Directory," gives the names of all the business firms in the city, with such other information as might be expected from its title. Counting both covers the work contains 25 pages. Amongst the advertisements in "Norris' Chicago Directory for 1846-7," we find that our merchants, like those of country villages, dealt generally in "dry goods, groceries, paints, oils, dye stuffs, glass, hardware, liquors, &c., and bought or took in exchange for goods all kinds of produce and furs."

The following is a copy of one of the advertisement of a flourishing house of that period:

"Dodge & Prouty. Dealers in West India Goods, Groceries and Provisions, 79 Lake street."

Now, "West India Goods" comprised several varieties of "Blue Ruin" Rum "and settery." Another firm, that of "Burbank & Shaw," dealt in everything, and paid "cash for deerskins and country produce." But by far the heaviest advertisers of those days were the barbers. Their cards are always set in the most ornamental styles of type known to the printer, and in space they exceeded all business men. We should infer from this that in the wooden country hereabouts, the people did not feel themselves called upon to pay so much attention to cleanly shaved faces and ambrosial locks as at present. The style was more democratic, it was cheaper, too, and business must have been slow with the knights of the razor in those times.

THEN AND NOW.

In 1823 there were three families in Chicago, residing in log cabins.

In 1830 there were five or six log houses, and the population was less than 100. In July, 1843, there were 1,364 houses—population about 7,000. The first frame dwelling was erected 1832.

Behold the change a few short years have wrought!

BUSINESS IN 1865.

In its external growth the city shows a mighty improvement during the year, notwithstanding that the thunders of war have scarcely left us to follow out the irresistible Western impulse to "improve." On all our principal thoroughfares the signs of progress are plainly visible; while the far off suburbs also exhibit the mighty controlling hand of progress. We have not during the year extended our municipal boundaries, but we have filled in, consolidated, beautified, utilized in a wonderful degree. The evidence of prosperity lie all around us, and we have the satisfaction of knowing that in many departments of external growth, the extent of our advancement has been limited not by lack of pecuniary means, but simply by paucity of workers, notwithstanding that the hosts of the Union have returned from the battle-field to resume the peaceful pursuits of civic life.

BUILDINGS.

In the erection and improvement of buildings, the city has done as much as in any former year, notwithstanding the facts that the building interests of all descriptions have ruled very high, and the wages of all classes of operatives have been far in advance of those demanded in any previous season for years past. Dwellings especially have sprung up in all parts of the city with scarce exampled rapidity, both for the habitation of our merchant princes, and of the secondary class of business men, as of operatives and laborers. In the suburbs, in particular, a wonderful change is apparent, and the former verdure-clad prairie now in thousands of little spots teems with humanity. In the business portions of the city, the hand of improvement is also manifest, in the metamorphosis of low, rickety shanties into massive marble and brick buildings stored with merchandise and goods. In relation to this class of buildings, the greater number were commenced in the latter part of 1864, though probably the "lion's share" of the expense was incurred in their completion during the past year.

The style of our civic architecture is, too, very much improved. The former heterogeneous assemblage of buildings, without regard to correspondence of parts or contiguities, is giving place to the harmonized series of structures, the architect having regard not only to the requirements of his art in the details of his own building, but to the character of its surrounding edifices. Hence, though the erections of 1865 are not, perhaps, vastly superior to those of former years, the higher uniformity attained is much more pleasing. The establishment of the grade has, too, attracted much more attention than formerly, and within the year, a great number of buildings, among them some of our largest blocks, have been raised to place. Among these is the large iron block on the corner of Wells and South Water streets, weighing nearly thirty thousand tons, which was raised some two feet seven inches during the summer.

SUMMARY.

The following figures represent, approximately, the total amount of money expended on buildings of all kinds during the year.

|                                           |             |
|-------------------------------------------|-------------|
| Buildings completed past year.....        | 6,450,000   |
| Improvements on work of former years..... | 500,000     |
|                                           | $6,950,000 |

These have been distributed with regard to the architects about as follows :

|                              |             |
|------------------------------|-------------|
| Ten leading architects.....  | $3,280,000 |
| Others, carpenters, etc..... | 1,320,000   |
| Without architects .....     | 2,000,000   |
| Stock yard buildings .....   | 350,000     |
|                              | $6,950,000 |

The following distribution of values of buildings erected, is as near an approximation as can be made in view of the fact that so large a number of buildings have been erected on private account, and their cost formed no item on the books of architects :

|                                              |       |
|----------------------------------------------|-------|
| Worth $300,000 and upwards.....             | 1     |
| Worth $200,000 and upwards.....             | 2     |
| Worth $100,000 and upwards.....             | 6     |
| Worth $30,000 and less than $100,000 ..... | 40    |
| Worth from $10,000 to $30,000.....         | 72    |
| Worth from $5,000 to $10,000.....          | 250   |
| Worth from $1,000 to $5,000.....           | 800   |
| Small cottages, shanties, etc.....           | 7,200 |
|                                              | 9,000 |
| Total, about .....                           | 9,000 |
| Churches .....                               | 9     |
| Schools and Colleges.....                    | 8     |
| Public buildings and halls .....             | 6     |

We herewith present our summary for 1864, as a comparison ; it shows an increase of nearly one-half in the value of erections for 1865 :

|                                            |             |
|--------------------------------------------|-------------|

| Schools.....                               | 2           |
| Halls and public buildings .....           | 4           |

COST OF BUILDING.

The cost of buiding this year has been very much greater than at any time in the recent history of Chicago. The inc ase in the value of real estate and building material has not been considerable over the rates of 1864, though prices of a terrible altitude have ruled rampant; wages of operatives have exhibited a considerable advance since the beginning of the year. But for this, rents would not rule so extravagantly as in the recent past, far eclipsing those charged for similar locations in the large cities of England. Buildings are now rented for nearly as much per year as it cost to erect them in 1859 and '60.

RAILROADS.

The city of Chicago may justly claim the privilege of being considered the center of the railway system of the continent, as there is scarcely a railroad in the country, of any importance, which does not seek to effect some connection with one of the great lines of which Chicago is the terminus. Like the city itself, the vast system of railroad traffic has been the growth of, comparatively speaking, a few years. No further back than 1849, our whole railroad system consisted of only a single line, extending from Chicago to Elgin. Now the State of Illinois is traversed throughout its entire length and breadth by railway tracks, more numerous than the county divisions or water courses of former times. The increase in railroad business is a pretty sure index of the growing importance of Chicago in a commercial point of view. It is, indeed, a self-evident proposition that it is the true interest of the city to foster and extend our railroad system; it is impossible to conceive of a railroad system without a commercial interest to feed it. An increasing commercial prosperity naturally demands an increase of railroads, and vice versa. There are still vast regions of waste lands to conquer in Illinois, Iowa, Wisconsin, Minnesota, and the yet undeveloped region lying west of the Missouri—the sources upon which Chicago must largely depend for her future commercial growth and prosperity, and it rests with the railroads to turn this “undiscovered country” into some practical use. Already Chicago is the greatest primary grain market in the world, and second to none in respect to her packing interests. It might be a safe prophecy, when this immense region shall have been cultivated by an industrious population, and penetrated by all the lines of railroad now projected, to foretell that Chicago will become the market whence the world will draw its supplies—the first city on the continent, both in point of population and the extent of her commercial transactions.

MANUFACTURES.

Within the past year, the attention of our capitalists and people has been alive to the importance of establishing manufactures here, as the truest means of enhancing the future greatness of our city, and not only have new manufactures been opened, but preparations been made for the establishment of others of even greater magnitude, which, in their very nature, augur the advancement, not only of Chicago, but of the entire West. The erection of stupendous cotton and woollen mills have not only been contemplated, but have even progressed so far as the drawing of plans and pledging of capital. The plans embrace immense establishments to which hands will be drawn from the overcrowded manufacturing districts both of the East and England. Such establishments offer great and hitherto non-existent inducements to emigrants to settle in our city and increase its material wealth.

MONEY AND BANKING.

The rapid progress which has taken place during the year 1865, in the financial position of our city, is perhaps as good an index as can be found of the commercial development of Chicago and the Northwest. It is not more than three years since we had only one or two regularly incorporated banking institutions, who transacted business on true banking principles. It is true we had quite a number of establishments in our midst over whose doors was painted the word "Bank," but they were generally nothing more than brokers' shops, and dealt in Eastern exchange, and lent money at various rates of interest. In the absence of regular banking institutions, they were in some respects valuable, but there was a want of responsibility about them that detracted from their character, and the sudden manner in which some of them collapsed destroyed all confidence in them. They were generally owned and managed by single individuals who have no one to account to, in the transaction of their business, and not a few of them, through an urgent desire to become suddenly rich, took the money that was deposited with them by our merchants and dealers, and engaged in wild and reckless speculations, to the ruin of all concerned. To look back on these things, it is truly wonderful how the people of the Northwest, year after year, patiently submitted to the outrages which were perpetrated on them by a class of men who pretended to be bankers, but who were neither more nor less than reckless adventurers, and possessed of but few of the traits and characteristics of honest men.

The breaking out of the rebellion swept from the State of Illinois about twelve millions of dollars of currency, which was based mainly on Southern State stocks, and soon thereafter nearly all the banks which had an existence under the free banking law of the State were wound up, either by the Auditor of the State or the proprietors—in most cases by the former. It was only indicative of the genuine strength of the Northwest that scarcely one month elapsed from the time when the currency alluded to began to depreciate till it was entirely driven out of circulation. Specie became the only recognized currency of the country. Our readers will probably recollect the numerous efforts that were made in this city and throughout the State to maintain this currency, and the prophetic forebodings that were indulged in with regard to the future, were it wiped out. But all these efforts were of no avail. The currency gradually depreciated until our merchants saw it was useless to try to stop its downward career, and they unanimously resolved to sell only for gold. The result was, that a few months after the collapse took place, there was scarcely a trace of it left, and business men all over the country congratulated each other on the happy change which had taken place in the financial position of affairs. Probably there is not another instance in the record of any country where the entire currency was swept away without creating a commercial and financial panic.

But the era of true banking did not begin to dawn till 1864, when, by the passage of the National Banking Act, an opportunity was afforded capitalists and merchants to organize institutions which would make banking, and that only, their sole business. During that year seven National banks were organized in this city, with an aggregate capital of about $3,000,000. During the year 1865 not less than six National banks have been organized, making the total number in our city thirteen, with an aggregate capital of $5,110,000.

It is true some of these National banks only took the place of private banks which had had an honorable existence for years; but for twelve months past it has been apparent to every shrewd financier that the public would be satisfied only with regularly organized banks under the National Banking Law, and there has been all through the country a general merging of interest to that end.

But it must be borne in mind that we have still in our midst some incorporated and private banks, with large capital, that continue to do business as formerly, which will swell the banking capital of our city to nearly nine millions of dollars.

The publication quarterly by the National Banks, of statements made under oath showing their condition and progress, is of great value to the business public. By it merchants can judge whether or not the institutions with which they are connected in business are in a prosperous condition, and it enables them to arrive at a tolerably correct estimate of the state of the money market. But it has also a beneficial effect on the banking institutions. As they have shown their hand every quarter, the statement acts as a check on them, if they have been doing more business than their capital would justify; and in this way both the stockholders and depositors may be saved from loss or ruin.

The following table shows the condition of the National Banks of Chicago on the first Monday in April, July and October, 1865, according to the quarterly statement made by the Comptroller of the Currency:

Every banking institution in the city ought to make statements similar to the above, every quarter, and if possible, on the same day on which the National Bank statements appear. It is due to their depositors, who have a right to know what the state of the institution is with which they are doing business.

The advantage which the increase of the banking capital is to the merchant and manufacturer, can scarcely be over-estimated. It is only within two years past that our banking institutions have been of any service to the community. Formerly, instead of being lenders of money, they were large borrowers, and it too often proved that their capital consisted only of their deposits. In those days it was almost impossible for a pork or beef packer to obtain accommodations for a longer period than thirty days, when he had to sell his product to pay his notes, no matter whether the market was favorable or unfavorable. The same thing was true with regard to manufacturers, whose operations cannot be successful without aid from outside capital. The merchant, too, when he laid in his fall and spring stocks, was compelled, from the want of proper banking facilities, to buy only where he could get the requisite accommodations as to time. Happily all this is changed; and although there is yet room for a much larger banking capital than we at present possess, still the improvement within the past year is apparent in almost every branch of trade or manufactures. All over our city large establishments have been erected for the manufacture of such wares as find a ready market in the Northwest, and in this way the population of our city has been greatly increased. Our merchants, too, have warehouses and stores, many of which will compare with the largest houses in the East.

But perhaps the benefits of this increase in our banking capital are nowhere more observable than in the produce, provision and live stock trade. When our crops had to be moved only with Eastern capital, the producers were at the mercy of the Eastern buyers. Whenever we had a heavy wheat, corn or hog crop, the great cry all over the West was the "scarcity of money," and, as the result of this, prices immediately fell below their natural level. Now, the crops are generally held with Western capital, and when the East wants our corn, our wheat, or our provisions, they have to buy of Western merchants. The market values are no longer dependent solely on the Eastern quotations, for the Chicago market for two years past has governed that of New York in all the leading products of the country. This never could have happened but for the great increase which has taken place in the banking facilities of the Northwest, particularly of Chicago.

The result of this improvement has been, higher prices for Western staples. It may be said that speculation has been encouraged to an undue extent. This may, in some instances, be true; but there is no more harm in speculating in produce in the West than in the East—in Chicago than in New York. This is the largest grain market in the world, and it is natural that it should be the most attractive for speculators. In former years our merchants had to purchase the grain with Eastern capital; but now they purchase it with Western capital, and this makes all the difference in the world to the producer.

THE INSURANCE INTEREST.

Wherever there is an increase in wealth and population, the insurance interest is always sure to flourish. For several years past the growth of this business in Chicago has been very large; but within the past year it has made greater progress than in any previous period of our history. That the business has been successfully prosecuted, we have daily evidence before us, in the magnificent buildings and offices which some of the companies have erected and fitted up, and in the large force which is employed as adjusters, collectors, canvassers, book-keepers and clerks. It is a moderate estimate that there are at least five hundred persons in our city who are engaged, directly or indirectly, in this business, and who occupy responsible positions. Only a few years since there were not probably over a dozen persons in all engaged in it, and but few of these made insurance a distinct and separate occupation.

The position which Chicago occupies as the commercial centre of the Northwest, has made it the headquarters, west of the lakes, of the best and strongest companies in the United States. The agents here generally have branch offices all over this State, Iowa, Wisconsin and Minnesota, and in this way the insurance interest keeps growing and prospering with the development of the country.

The total number of insurance companies located and represented in Chicago is 129. Of these, there are 81 fire and marine companies, 29 life insurance companies, and 2 accident companies—all represented by agents. Besides these, however, there are 14 fire and marine companies, 1 life company and 2 accident companies which are located here, and in which our own citizens are stockholders.

The increase of "home" insurance companies during the past year is one of the chief features of the business. On the first day of last January there were doing business only three, or, at most, four companies; now there are seventeen—nearly all of which may be said to be doing a good business. Some of them, so far as management and position are concerned, will compare favorably with the best and oldest companies of the East. It is true, their capital is not as large as some of the older institutions, but this does not make so much difference where there is careful and close attention paid to the risks taken.

The premium on fire and marine risks, during the past year, would probably amount to about $1,500,000. Out of this there have been paid by the various companies about $1,000,000 in losses by fire and by disasters on the lakes and rivers.

The progress in Life Insurance has been great during the year 1865. It is now looked upon by all classes of the community as a duty which they owe to their families, and even poor laborers and mechanics are very generally investing part of their savings in this way. Of the 15 Life Insurance companies represented here, only two are local; but we are pleased to be able to state that the companies having offices here are the very best in the country.

A new feature has developed itself in the insurance business, in the establishment of "Accident Companies." There are two home and three Eastern companies represented—and we understand they are doing a large and prosperous business.

THE GRAIN TRADE.

Chicago still maintains her supremacy as the largest grain market in the world. Following will be found tables showing the receipts and shipments of Flour and Grain during the year 1865, with comparative statistics. From these it will be seen that the total receipts of grain—flour and wheat—aggregate 52,623,823 bushels, against 45,952,741 bushels received in 1864, showing an increase of 7,671,082 bushels, or nearly seventeen per cent. Flour shows an increase of 44,870 barrels, wheat a decrease of 1,791,578 bushels, corn an increase of 11,502,601 bushels—nearly ninety per cent. Oats show a falling off of 3,316,042 bushels—nearly twenty-five per cent. Rye an increase of 196,998 bushels. Barley shows an improvement of 855,808 bushels—almost an increase of one hundred and twenty per cent. The grand aggregate increase this year over last is owing to the enormous receipts of corn.

FLOUR.

The receipts of Flour during the year 1865 were 1,116,561 barrels, against 1,141,791 barrels received in 1864, and 1,474,284 barrels received in 1863. The increase in the receipts this year in comparison with last cannot but prove a source of gratification to all who are interested in the trade. During the present year every inducement that could be offered was extended by the St. Louis merchants to the millers in the Upper Mississippi Valley to ship their manufactures down the river. Great talk was made about cheap freights to New Orleans, via the Mississippi River, and equally cheap rates to New York and Boston by sail or steam from the Crescent City, and by force of this talk the movement that way in the spring of the year was large as compared with former years. This route had its natural drawbacks, which no artificial means could mitigate. Consignors had to wait for an unnecessary length of time for their returns, and in addition there were pressing doubts as to the possibility of Northern flour keeping sound and sweet on a passage through the Gulf. New Orleans as a market was not able to handle the receipts, and this unnatural route did not, consequently, meet with much favor, showing again the absurdity of endeavoring to change the natural channels and laws of commerce.

The year has been on the whole a highly favorable one to the manufacturers. The stock of choice Extras, Spring and Winter, has been light throughout the year, and the market has not been subjected to those violent fluctuations and irregularities which were the distinguishing feature in 1864. After the year's wheat crop had begun to seek a market, a marked change took place in the quality of the flour. The wheat was damp, resulting in the manufacture of damp flour, which naturally became heated when packed. This applies more particularly to the flour made in this State. The Spring and Winter Extras made in Iowa, Wisconsin and Minnesota, are as good as those made in any previous year, and there were very few complaints about the receipts from these sections. The supply of St. Louis flour has been lighter this year than last year—the receipts being mostly of favorite brands for the wants of our local and New England trade.

THE PROVISION TRADE.

The prominence which Chicago has attained within a few years past as the leading Pork and Beef packing centre of the United States, has attracted to our city a large amount of capital and enterprise which for a long period of years had been used in other localities. The rapid development of the Northwestern States has transferred the trade in provisions from the Valley of the Ohio to that of the Mississippi, of which this city is the chief outlet to the seaboard. Here congregate the large herds of Beeves and Hogs that are annually raised and fed in the States of

EDWARDS' NEW CITY DIRECTORY OFFICE, 73 DEARBORN STREET, S. E. CORNER OF RANDOLPH.

Illinois, Iowa, Wisconsin and Minnesota, and with a climate superior for packing purposes to that of Cincinnati, Louisville or St. Louis, it is not strange that Chicago should take the lead in all that relates to the Provision Trade.

The future of this trade can only be estimated by the progress which is going on in the development of the territory of which Chicago is the key. It is only six years since Chicago stood third in the list of pork packing points in the West, and for three seasons past she has so far outstripped all competition in this respect that there is scarcely room left for comparison.

THE BEEF PACKING.

Chicago continues to stand at the head of the beef packing points in the United States. In this respect she has no competitors. There are, it is true, a few places in the West, where beef cattle are packed, but, compared with Chicago, the business is very trifling. Situated, as we are, in the largest cattle market in the world, our packers have an advantage which can be obtained nowhere else in the world.

The high reputation the Chicago Mess, Prime Mess, India Mess, and India Beef, has in all the chief markets of the world, insured for our packers a continuance of that trade, and there is every reason to suppose that it will continue to increase with the growth and development of the Great West.

WHOLESALE CLOTHING.

The trade in wholesale Clothing has enjoyed unusual prosperity during the year just closed. The demand upon our merchants has been larger than ever before, and the prospects of the coming season are satisfactory. Most of our dealers have been energetic in pushing their trade in all sections of the country, and opening up new markets. The Lake Superior trade, which is rapidly growing into importance, has been, in a great measure, supplied from Chicago instead of Detroit, as heretofore. By commendable energy and liberality on the part of our leading houses, the present markets are not only secured, but new fields are being rapidly opened.

The fall trade for the year closed suffered somewhat from the warm weather which continued unusually late, and also from the decline in produce which rendered people less disposed to buy and prevented retailers from closing out their stocks as rapidly as was expected. But, taken as a whole, our dealers congratulate themselves upon a prosperous season.

For list of the principal houses engaged in the wholesale clothing trade see Business Director.

THE GROCERY TRADE.

The Grocery trade of this city during the year just closing has been one of prosperity, and, in no department of commerce for which Chicago stands pre-eminent, has there been more energy and enterprise displayed. Throughout the entire West and Northwest our jobbers find good customers, and the names of Chicago grocers are "household words" from the falls of St. Anthony to the Arkansas line, and from the Rocky Mountains to Lake Michigan. Several additions have been made to the number of houses since our last annual review, and the style and firm name of some of the old houses has been changed by dissolution or death. Although the number of firms has somewhat increased the competition, it has had no other effect than to increase the sales. From carefully prepared estimates we figure the aggregate sales of our wholesale grocers for the year, at $40,000,000—numerically the same as last year, though, in reality, the bulk of goods disposed of is fully one-third greater. This is owing to the great decline in the price of gold since last year—causing a proportionate reduction in the price of goods.

One feature of the Grocery Trade of this city, which we had almost forgotten, is the "Grocers' Exchange." This association was formed about a year and a half ago, for the accommodation of the Grocers of the city. The Exchange is located in Smith & Nixon's Building, Washington St., where they hold regular monthly meetings for the transaction of the business of the organization. Telegraphic dispatches of the New York Grocery and Gold markets are daily bulletined for the convenience of the subscribers. Job lots of groceries are sold here every day. The following are the officers of the Exchange:

President—Henry Sayrs.

Vice Presidents—James McKindley and C. B. Sawyer.

Treasurer—P. H. Willard.

Secretary—S. P. Farrington.

Directors—W. M. Tureman, S. Stephenson, J. Bradner Smith, J. W. Doane, J. K. Pollard, Robert L. Fabian, M. D. Gilman and T. P. Byrn.

Arbitration Committee—H. G. Powers, F. D. Tator, H. Johnson, H. W. Hinsdale and G. M. Kimbark.

MILLINERY AND STRAW GOODS.

This important branch of our mercantile interests has shared in the general prosperity which has attended all other departments of trade. Our dealers in this kind of goods have enjoyed a trade exceeding in extent and prosperity that of any preceding year. Their operations have extended over a wider field, and reached localities which has heretofore been neglected. The increase of business has necessitated an enlargement of their facilities, and a much larger capital than ever before is now embarked in the trade. The amount of sales made during the past year will not fall far below $5,000,000.

For list of the principal houses in the trade, see Business Director.

THE DRY GOODS TRADE.

The importance of Chicago as a Dry Goods market for the Northwest is becoming more manifest each succeeding year. Only a few years since, Chicago had no recognized position among the Dry Goods markets in the United States. In those days the merchants of the West and Northwest made their purchases in St. Louis or Cincinnati, but within the past three or four years an entire revolution has been accomplished. Chicago has now a position among the Dry Goods markets of the country—one not attained so much by the current of trade, as by the energy and perseverance of her jobbers. There are in this city over thirty large Dry Goods houses, any of which will compare favorably with the houses in New York in point of stock, and, as far as prices are concerned, the comparison is decidedly in favor of this city. The merchants of Minnesota, Wisconsin, Iowa, Nebraska, Kansas, Northern Missouri, Illinois, Western Michigan and Northern Indiana find more advantages to be derived here than at any other point in the country, the Atlantic cities not excepted. Even in the Empire City, the influence of Chicago in Dry Goods matters is beginning to be appreciated, for we find that within the past four or five months, daily telegraphic reports of our markets are to be found bulletined in the New York Dry Goods Exchange. The Dry Goods market during the year has been very erratic in its course, and prices have fluctuated to a considerable extent. These fluctuations were governed by the daily variations in gold, and the laws of supply and demand, though, for the past two or three months, the former ceased to have any material effect—the changes in the market being governed mainly by the latter, and an occasional speculative fever. The gradual decline in the value of gold from the beginning of the year until the collapse of the rebellion caused a similar depreciation in the Dry Goods market. During the first week in January, Standard Sheetings sold at 61½c, and Richmond Prints at 36c, and on the 8th of April at 37½c and 19c—a decline of 24c on the sheetings and 17c on the prints. From this date until August 1st there was a gradual hardening in prints—selling on August 5th at 30c, an advance of 11c. Standard Sheetings were, however, very unsettled—declining to 32½c, advancing to 42½—falling back to 29c, again advancing to 34½c. In bleached goods the “ups and downs” have been equally marked.

BOOTS AND SHOES.

The wholesale Boot and Shoe Trade of Chicago has made great progress within the past twelve months. Not only has it been greatly extended all over the Northwest, but the business has assumed a more settled character.

One great feature of the trade now is its manufactories. It is not more than two, or at most three, years since every single pair of boots and shoes jobbed in this city was manufactured at the East; but nearly all the large wholesale houses now make their own goods. In this business there are steadily employed from 800 to 1000 hands, and almost every month the trade is on the increase, so that additional hands have to be employed.

With regard to the quality of the work turned out by these establishments, we have made diligent inquiry, and find that as a rule it is much superior to the workmanship turned out at the East, either as regards style or durability.

The sales during the past year have been much heavier than in any previous year of our history, and they are estimated at about $15,000,000.

See list of houses in the Business Director.

HATS, CAPS AND FURS.

This department of our mercantile trade has, during the past year, enjoyed a degree of prosperity hitherto unknown. Our merchants are constantly extending their field of operations, and supplying new points in the North, South and West. With the exception of a few months in the year, they have been crowded with orders and their goods have gone into nearly every town, village and hamlet in the Northwest, reaching away to Arizona, Pike's Peak, Colorado and Salt Lake. The Fur Trade has not exhibited the same degree of activity as usual, due chiefly to the warm, mild autumn and early winter. Taken as a whole, the trade has been esteemed highly prosperous, and prices throughout have ruled higher than last year. From a careful estimate of the amount of busi-

HARDWARE.

The Hardware trade for the season just past has been a highly prosperous one. Nearly every species of goods has been in better demand than last year, though prices of shelf goods have ruled nearly 20 per cent. higher. The extraordinary development of our Western Territories has created new markets, while the rapidly multiplying facilities of communication enable dealers to reach new points every year. The suppression of the rebellion and the opening of the Southern markets overwhelmed manufacturers with orders, and a scarcity of goods was the consequence. Yet our merchants have, by dint of great effort, been enabled to supply the wants of their customers. During the closing months of the year the decline in produce caused a partial suspension of activity, as country buyers refused to purchase, anticipating a reduction in manufactured goods equal to that in produce. No decline, however, took place, owing in part to the scarcity of the goods all over the country. All descriptions of imported goods have ruled higher, owing chiefly to an advance in Europe and the increased tariff.

Nails have been unprecedentedly active during the past year. This is due principally to the unusual amount of building going on in all parts of the country. The supply, too, was limited, as the immense Southern trade absorbed a large amount of the stock manufactured.

Heavy hardware and bar iron have also been more active than at any previous year. Prices of this class of goods have ruled considerably lower than last season.

From a careful estimate of the amount of business done, we infer that the sales of hardware of all kinds, at wholesale, cannot be less than $6,000,000.

See Business Director for a list of the principal houses in this trade.

THE BUSINESS MEN OF CHICAGO.

The limits of this review precludes the just mention of all the departments of industry; yet we cannot omit referring to the merchants of the city. Literally the fathers of its commercial prosperity, they have, too, been always foremost in the efforts for its social, moral and intellectual advancement. In the field of commercial enterprise, their own prosperity, no less than the proud position of the city to-day, attests their ability and energy. Their chief aim has been to make Chicago vie with other and older cities of the Union, and successfully maintain the reputation of the metropolis of the Northwest. It has been the aim of our wholesale merchants to control so large an amount of trade as to enable them to do business on small profits, and by a steady adherence to this policy they have made it a well established fact throughout the Northwest that merchandise of every description can be purchased on as favorable terms here as in any other city in the Union.

NEWSPAPERS.

The progress and prosperity of Chicago is due, in a great measure, to her newspaper press—their public spirit, energy and influence have conduced to render them valuable assistants in the work of making Chicago the great metropolis of the Northwest. This is particularly so of the dailies—the Tribune, Times, Journal, Republican and Post (English), and the Staats Zeitung and Union (German), which, from their metropolitan character and the high-toned ability of their editorial management, exercise a controlling influence over the journalism of the country, as well as being the reliable exponents of the interests of the city. Both the daily and weekly issues—English and German—are well printed and supported in a praiseworthy manner by the people of whom they are the index.

In conclusion, we would call the attention of the reader to the City and County Record in the following pages—in the getting up of which great pains have been taken—containing elaborate reports of the various public and private institutions, churches, city government, benevolent and other societies, &c.; and by reference to the CLASSIFIED BUSINESS DIRECTORY at the end of the book, strangers and others will find at a glance the full address and particular business of each and every merchant, manufacturer, and business man in the city. ## Rates of Postage.

The postage on letters to be forwarded in the mails to any part of the United States, is three cents per half ounce, pre-paid by stamps.

The postage on letters dropped in this office for delivery in the city, is two cents per half ounce, pre-paid by stamps.

Letters to Canada and the British Provinces, ten cents per half ounce, pre-payment optional. Newfoundland, ten cents per half ounce, must be prepaid by stamps.

Letters to the President of the United States, to any Cabinet officer, or head of Bureau, civil, military or naval, (except official communications, written and franked by an officer responsible thereto.) must be prepaid.

Regular newspapers and periodicals, not exceeding four ounces in weight, issued once a week, or more frequently, and sent to actual subscribers from a known office of publication, are chargeable each with postage when pre-paid quarterly in advance, at rates as follows: For publications issued once a week, five cents; twice a week, ten cents; three times a week, fifteen cents; six times a week, thirty cents; seven times a week, thirty-five cents; and on the same scale an additional rate for each additional four ounces or fractional part thereof. On newspapers and periodicals issued less frequently than once a week, and sent to actual subscribers from a known office of publication, and not exceeding four ounces in weight, the rates of postage are as follows: For each publication issued semi-monthly, six cents; monthly, three cents; and quarterly, one cent; and on the same scale an additional rate for each four ounces or fraction thereof.

Transient newspapers, pamphlets, proof-sheets, book-manuscripts, samples, sample-cards, photograph cards, cards, maps, blanks, blank paper, engravings, envelopes, seeds, roots, scions and printed matter, (except circulars and books,) will be rated at two cents for every four ounces, or fraction thereof, prepaid by stamps.

Double the above rates will be charged for books.

Unsealed circulars, not exceeding three in number shall pass at the single rate of two cents, and in that proportion for a greater number, adding one rate for three circulars, or less number thereof, directed to one address.

The City Mail Delivery.

On the 1st of September, 1864, the new system of the delivery and collection of letters, by means of regular carriers, and the institution of station boxes, was established in Chicago. Letters are now delivered in, and collected from, all parts of the city with great dispatch and security. No part of the city is left unvisited twice each day by the carriers. The carriers are carefully selected and are obliged to give good and sufficient bonds for the due performance of their duties.

The old branch post-offices, as such, have been abolished, except the west branch office transferred to Station B. To this the mails are sent out from the Central Office, and taken thence by the carriers. The letters arrive here just previous to each delivery, and are assorted to their proper district. They are then taken to the place of their respective addresses by the carriers. The latter make distribution in that portion of the city lying between Chicago avenue on the north, and Polk street on the south, and Halsted street on the west, and between Madison and Kinzie in the West Division, four times each day, at the hours of 7½ and 10 o'clock A. M., and 2½ and 4½ o'clock P. M. In the more settled portion of the city outside of this district, the deliveries are made three times daily, at 8½ and 10½ A. M., and 4 P. M. In the less thickly inhabited parts of the city, the daily deliveries are two—at 8½ A. M., and 4 P. M.

COLLECTION OF LETTERS.—The new system of the collection of letters through deposit boxes by the carriers, obviates the necessity of repairing to the office by individuals at any distance therefrom. Boxes are fixed up at prominent points into which letters may be dropped, and from which they are taken by the collectors four times daily. In the business portions of the city, these collections are made at 7:40 and 9:40 o'clock A. M., and at 2:30, 4:30, 6:30, and 7:30 P. M. Outside of the business section, the collections are made a little earlier, so that the letters may all reach the Central Office at the same time. The boxes are well and securely fastened with locks. They are generally placed at the most public and exposed point, so that any attempt to violate them will be easily noticed and prevented.

The collection boxes throughout the city are located as follows:

Suggestions.

To insure the safe delivery of letters, all persons living in the city, should be careful to notify their correspondents of their street and its number. The safest and surest way to do this, is to commence the date at the heading of the letter

"Dear Sir," etc., and request their correspondents to address them accordingly. Even if the delivery were not an object, the rule is a good one, as it insures the return of letters to the sender, in cases where the party addressed fails to receive them. In the cases of very valuable letters, the senders would find it better probably to take them to the Central office and mail them directly there. Apart from this suggestion, there is little necessity now for persons to visit the post office either for the purpose of receiving or dispatching their correspondence.

STRONG BAND.

A loyal and secret association, in which are united Republicans and Democrats, without distinction of party. The only condition of membership is loyalty to the Government and Union against internal traitors and external foes. The object sought is a union of hearts and a recognition of each other by military signs. Every separate, local association is called an Encampment, and the members are Comrades at Arms. It is not a secret society only so far as the signs of recognition.

The organization is governed by a Board of Control of 34 members. The following are the permanent officers:

Colleges and Seminaries.

CHICAGO THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY.

Located west side of Union Park, corner Warren and Reuben streets.

Chartered in 1855 by the Legislature of Illinois, under the corporate name of "The Board of Directors of the Chicago Theological Seminary," established by the Congregationalists, but open to all denominations. The following are the professorships with their endowments:

Professorship of Systematic Theology, Rev. Joseph Haven, D. D., Professor; endowment, $30,000.

Professorship of Biblical Literature, Rev. S. O. Bartlett, D. D., professor; endowment $30,000.

Professorship of Sacred Rhetoric, Rev. Franklin W. Fisk, D. D., Professor; endowment, $30,000.

A Fourth Professorship of Ecclesiastical History and Pastoral Theology, is contemplated, but not yet filled or endowed.

Tuition is gratuitous to all the students, and those who need it receive aid to the amount of $150 per year. Library about 2,500 volumes.

Rev. H. L. Hammond, General Agent and Treasurer, 53 La Salle street.

Number of students in 1865 and 1866, 47. Alumni about 50.

PRESBYTERIAN THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY OF THE NORTHWEST.

Corner Halsted street and Fullerton avenue, North Chicago.

Professors—Rev. Willis Lord, D. D., residence, Orchard, nr. Fullerton avenue.

Rev. Leroy J. Halsey, D. D., residence Clark street, one-half mile north of city limits.

Rev. Charles Elliott, D. D., residence in Seminary building.

General Agent—Rev. John M. Faris, residence in Seminary building.

Board of Directors—Rev. I. N. Candee, D. D., Galeburg, Ill., President.

Rev. Reuben Frame, Vice President.

Rev. E. Erskine, Chicago, Secretary.

Executive Committee—Rev. W. W. Harsha, Chicago, Chairman.

Board of Trustees—Col. R. B. Mason, Chicago, President.

Samuel Howe, Esq., Chicago, Secretary.

Eliphalet Wood, Chicago, Treasurer.

This Seminary was founded by the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church, (old school) in 1859. For more than four years the Seminary occupied rented premises in different parts of the city. At length, Messrs. Sheffield, of New Haven, Conn., Wm. B. Ogden, of this city, and others, gave the Seminary for a site, 20 acres of ground, lying between Belden street and Fullerton avenue, and west of Halsted street, being on the northern city limit. To this Messrs. Lill & Diversy added five acres on the east end of the twenty acre lot.

A superb building has been erected, the money being chiefly contributed by a few liberal friends in the city of New York.

The building is 72 by 40 feet, of pressed brick, with stone facing and caps, the basement being also of stone. The entire height is five stories. The Seminary has two libraries, embracing nearly 7,000 vols. This is the youngest of the four Theological Seminaries in the United States, founded by the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church. It is but proper to add, however, that this is the out-growth of a Seminary organized and sustained at New Albany, Indiana, for fifteen years or more, by several synods, before the control was committed to the General Assembly, and the institution re-organized and located in this city.

The Seminary receives suitable candidates for the University from any denomination of Christians, and charges no tuition fee. It also provides furnished rooms free of rent, and by the proceeds of endowed scholarships, and otherwise, provides a fund for aiding in the support of such worthy students as may require assistance. The course of study covers three years; the student having graduated at some respectable college before coming here.

UNIVERSITY OF CHICAGO.

This institution of learning was first opened for instruction, A. D. 1858, at which time a five story stone building, costing $30,000, was erected for its occupancy, at Cottage Grove, on the ground previously donated by the late Hon. S. A. Douglas. The main central building, 136 by 172 feet, is now completed, costing above $100,000. Dearborn Tower, built entirely by the munificence of our fellow citizen, Hon. J. Y. Scammon, L. L. D., at a cost of $25,000 and has the great Clarke Telescope, the largest and best refractor in the world.

CHICAGO MEDICAL COLLEGE.

This Institution, formerly the Medical Department of the Lind University, was organized in 1858, and is now in a prosperous condition. It occupies a spacious new building on State street, two doors south of Twenty-Fourth street.

The Faculty announce to the public that this college is no longer an experiment, but one of the permanently established institutions of the country. For the past six years, its patronage has gradually increased, enabling the erection of a spacious new building. The museum attached to the college is filled with every needed means of illustration and study, together with an ample chemical apparatus and laboratory, besides a library of nearly one thousand volumes. In entering upon the seventh year of its existence, the Trustees announce that the college is not only free from embarrassment, but that it possesses ample resources and most gratifying prospects for future prosperity and usefulness. During the coming year, it is the intention of the Faculty to make still further additions to the museum and library, and to open a reading room in connection therewith, which they will supply with all the principal medical periodicals published in the United States.

SOMETHING NEW!

STEAM

BINDERY.

Nos. 80 and 82
WASHINGTON St. cor. DEARBORN.

Having applied Steam, together with the most approved machinery attainable for the binding and manufacture of Books, we are prepared to make to order every description of Commercial work, such as

LEDGERS, DAY AND CASH BOOKS, Journals, Insurance Books, etc.
Also every style of LETTER-PRESS BINDING, by the edition or single volume.

As we use nothing but the BEST MATERIAL, and employ only the BEST WORKMEN, our work in point of finish and durability, is in every respect superior to such work done by hand.

Our extended facilities entirely obviates the delay heretofore necessary in filling orders, enabling us at the same time to work at Eastern Prices. We are doing large quantities of work in Arabesque Morocco and English Calf. Also of

MAGAZINES, MUSIC, &c.

Of which we will be pleased to show samples on application at our office.

Our Embossing Dies are entirely New, and are of the latest and most recherche style.

SATISFACTION GUARANTEED.

Orders left at the Office will meet with prompt attention. Packages sent and delivered free of charge, in any part of the city.

EDWARDS' NEW CHICAGO DIRECTORY

STREET AND AVENUE GUIDE,

FROM
D. B. COOKE'S DIRECTORY OF 1857, REVISED AND CORRECTED TO DATE.

EXPLANATION.

Chicago is divided into Three Divisions—the North, South and West Sides, and known by the following abbreviations: N. D., S. D., W. D.

NUMBERING OF THE HOUSES.

In the SOUTH DIVISION all streets running north and south are numbered from north to south; and all streets running east and west are numbered from east to west.

In the NORTH DIVISION all streets running from south to north are numbered from south to north; and all streets (except Rees and Gardner) running east and west are numbered from west to east. The streets in this Division which are continuations of the same streets in the South Division, are called North and are denoted by the prefix N., as Clark, in the South Division, and North Clark, in the North Division.

In the WEST DIVISION, Randolph street is made the dividing line, as far as Union Park; west of that, Park avenue divides north from south, and all streets running north and south are numbered from that line, as Clinton running south is numbered from north to south, and N. Clinton running north is numbered from south to north. All streets running east and west are numbered from east to west.

WHERE THE STREETS ARE NUMBERED.

To find the location of any given house, say 121 Cass street, on reference to this Directory (see Cass) you find that 115 Cass is on the corner of Erie, and 135 on the corner of Huron, consequently the number you seek is between those two streets, and on the right hand side of Cass street, as you proceed from its point of commencement.

WHERE THE STREETS ARE NOT NUMBERED.

To find the location of any given house, say Lincoln, between West Adams and West Jackson, on reference to this Directory you find that Lincoln runs from Park avenue south to Twenty-second street, and that West Adams is the sixth intersecting street from its point of commencement.

House, Sign and Banner

PAINTEERS,

Graining, Frescoing, Kalsomining,
GILDING ON GLASS, &c., &c.

A decorative banner with a dark background and light-colored text. At the top, the words "SIGNS" and "SIGN" are written in a stylized font, flanking a central emblem of a hand holding a paintbrush. Below this, the words "HOUSE & SIGN" are written in large, outlined letters. Underneath, the word "PAINTING." is written in bold, solid letters. The banner is divided into several sections: on the left, a small sign reads "HOUSE PAINTING"; in the center, four small rectangular panels show different scenes of people painting or working; on the right, another sign reads "GRAINING MARBLING (and) FRESCO DECORATIONS - &c." and "Black-Let".

NOS. 91 & 93 RANDOLPH STREET,

N. E. COR. DEARBORN STREET.

Extract from Chicago Tribune, Dec. 26, 1865:

ARTISTIC.—Tony Delight has put at the door of his magnificent tonsorial establishment a sign worthy of the magnificent interior—a barber's sign of such elaborate design and ornamentation that it seems rather a novel work of art than a sign. The medallions on its pedestal are really beautiful specimens of painting. It was executed by Edmonds & Co., the well known sign and banner painters, under Col. Wood's Museum, 117 Randolph street, who have justly merited a high reputation for sign and banner painting generally.

GOOD NEWS AT LAST!

The Never-Failing Dr. Raphael is the best.

HE SUCCEEDS WHEN ALL OTHERS FAIL.

All who are in trouble; all who have been unfortunate; all whose fond hopes have been disappointed, crushed and blasted; all who have been seduced by false promises and deceit; all who have been deceived and trifled with; all go to him for advice and to get satisfaction.

He makes your misfortunes pass away; he makes the slander and envy of your enemies fall harmless, and he sustains your character and respectability in spite of evil reports and rumors. All who are in doubt of the affections of those they love consult him, to relieve and satisfy their minds, and to find out if their bright and warm hopes will be realized.

IN LOVE AFFAIRS HE NEVER FAILS.

He has the secret of winning the affections of the opposite sex. He guides the single to a wealthy and happy marriage and makes the married happy. His aid and advice has been so cited in innumerable instances, and the result has always been a SPEEDY AND HAPPY MARRIAGE. To make things more sure he will

Show you the Likeness of your Future Husband or Wife.

He will tell you their circumstances and their future prospects, and, what is better than all, he can tell you what their thoughts and their "REAL" intentions are. What is better still, he can tell you if they will make you happy. Dr. Raphael is, therefore, a sure dependence. To all in business his advice is invaluable. He can foretell, with the greatest certainty, the result of all commercial and business transactions and speculations. Dr. Raphael interprets dreams for lottery numbers with unfailing accuracy.

MORE GOOD NEWS!

Dr. RAPHAEL will cast your Horoscope or write your nativity. Every man through the length and breadth of the land who has had bad luck and cannot get on in the world, should be in possession of his Horoscope and get Dr. Raphael's WRITTEN OPINION OF HIS FUTURE PROSPECTS IN LIFE. It will guide him to wealth, eminence and honor. Thousands of good men who were unfortunate and unsuccessful in their business; men who worked hard, and who struggled against adversity and misfortune the greater part of their lives, and who found the more they tried to get forward in the world, the more things went against them; these men got Dr. Raphael's written opinion of their future prospects in life. All those who wisely followed Dr. Raphael's advice are now RICH, HAPPY AND SUCCESSFUL in all their undertakings, while those who were blinded by prejudice and ignorance, neglected his advice, are still laboring against adversity and poverty. Be assured WEALTH, EMINENCE AND GOOD LUCK are within the reach of all. If you wish to be rich and happy consult him also.

Good News for the Afflicted.

He has the gift, and can tell the afflicted the cause of their disease and suffering. He can also tell whether they can be cured or not, thus saving the afflicted both trouble and expense.

Consultations daily, Sundays excepted. Office hours from 10 A. M. to 4 P. M. All interviews are strictly private and confidential. Therefore, we say, go on! go on! and consult

HOWE SEWING MACHINE

(TRADE MARK.)

J. O. Bryant & Co.,
General Western Agents.

98 Washington Street,
CHICAGO.

(IMBEDDED IN THE MACHINE.)

Important Announcement.

ELIAS HOWE, JR., THE ORIGINAL INVENTOR OF THE SEWING MACHINE, has recently added the crowning effort of his great genius, by materially improving and perfecting his already justly popular Machine. Its present form is the fruit of twenty-five years of study and experiment of this thoroughly educated and practical Mechanic. His experience and observations have enabled him to determine the necessities of the business and how fully they have been supplied.

For thoroughness of construction, simplicity of parts and arrangement, ease of management, and quietness of movement and adaptation to purposes of sewing, nothing further is desired.

THE NEW IMPROVED MACHINE

surpasses any thing of the kind heretofore produced; for family sewing and manufacturing purposes it has no equal. This position has heretofore been well established by use and repeated trials at domestic and foreign exhibitions.

The Howe Machine possesses advantages for family sewing that are not contained in any other: seaming, quilting, felling, tucking, braiding, cording, binding and gathering, are done with ease and perfectness on our new machine.

Manufacturing Machines are especially adapted for Tailors, Boot and Shoe Makers, Carriage Trimmers, Saddlers and all general manufacturing.

Parties wanting the agency of this celebrated Machine, can call or address

J. O. BRYANT & Co., Gen'l Agts, 98 Washington St., Chicago.

WAX THREAD MACHINES.

We have also the agency of the NEW ENGLAND WAX THREAD MACHINES for all leather manufacturing purposes, and a full supply constantly on hand. The trade of the Northwest is respectfully solicited. Also, a full line of Threads, Silks, and Machine Findings.

THE STATE MUTUAL

One of Massachusetts oldest and best Life Assurance Companies, presents the following advantages to those seeking Life Assurance:

- 1st. A rate of premium TWENTY PER CENT. LOWER than other Companies.
- 2d. A greater accumulation for the amount at risk than any other Company.
- 3d. Economy in conducting its business, its ratio of expenses to receipts being less (by Commissioners' Report) than any other Company.
- 4th. A Dividend which, considering the lowness of its rates, in comparison with other Companies, will make the cost of Assurance in this Company extremely low.
- 5th. The favorable proposals of the Company to all assured persons to prevent the lapse of their policies.
- 6th. The laws of Massachusetts continue in force every policy after payments shall have ceased, until the assured has received the full equivalent for every dollar paid to the Company.

THE WILCOX & GIBBS

SILENT FAMILY

G R E A T L E A D I N G F A M I L Y M A C H I N E

WILCOX & GIBBS SILENT FAMILY Sewing Machine

Twisted Loop Elastic Lock Stitch.

WILL STITCH, HEM, FELL, TUCK, CORD, BIND, Braid, Quilt and Embroider Beautifully.

It will, with the FINEST needle and thread, run from perfect work on the finest Nainsook, over the heaviest beaver cloth and cowhide, with NO change of needle, thread or tension. It will use coarse cotton, linen, silk and twine. It runs easier, faster and stiller than any other machine. It forms a flat, even and elastic seam, differing from every other stitch, each loop being TWISTED by means of and drawing the twist into the goods, thus securely fastening every stitch, so that the seam will bear to be cut at frequent intervals, and in that case even, the seam is warranted not to rip in wear, and under all circumstances to "survive the wash tub." Old, worn out family garments, bonnets, pants, dresses, &c., have been submitted to Committees at FAIRS where was the GREATEST COMPETITION, and to this stitch premiums have been awarded for its Superiority, Durability, Elasticity and Beauty.

THE "ROTATING HOOK,"

A patented device prevents the possibility of the machine being run in the wrong direction, or the balance wheel ever wearing or touching the dress.

THE NEEDLE CANNOT BE SET WRONG,
Thus avoiding the great trouble of other machines.

NO BREAKING OF NEEDLES.
The blade of the needle is less than three-fourths of an inch long, and is straight.

The Hemmer and Feller can never be set wrong.

Any one may adjust them IN THE DARK. The hem may be of any width. No other hemmer or feller is like this. It turns the hem on the right or under side, as you want it.

It will not drop Stitches, as the needle is always set right, the blade short and straight, does not vibrate, like longer ones. It is run by steam at 3000 stitches per minute—other machines at only 400 to 1200, with safety. They are Manufactured with Mathematical Precision.

Hence each part is interchangeable and can be readily replaced in case of accident. The machine cannot be adjusted hence will not get out of order. It will last a generation, if properly cared for. None who have used it can be persuaded to use any other.

WERE NEVER EQUALED.
The roundness, evenness, durability and beauty of its stitch

Its Rapidity, Absolute Stillness, Ease of Motion, narrowness and neatness of its HEM and FELL were never approached by any other machine. We can call in any boy or girl from the street, and with three minutes instruction they will set the needle, attach the Hemmer, or Feller, and do the work with entire success.

The PRESS universally pronounces this the Best Family Sewing Machine in the World. Whatever the merits of the other machines, it is no disparagement to say the Wilcox & Gibbs is worth, for family use, double that of any other ever offered to the public.

It received the Gold Medal of the American Institute—the FIRST PREMIUM for

"THE BEST SEWING MACHINE,"

at the great New England Fair—the Vermont State Fair—the Pennsylvania State Fair—the Indiana State Fair—the Wisconsin State Fair—the Michigan State Fair—the Iowa State Fair—and at over 60 County Fairs throughout the West—making more First Premiums than were taken by all other Sewing Machines together in the same time.

IT IS NOW THE GREAT LEADING FAMILY SEWING MACHINE ALL OVER THE WORLD.

Price of Machines, with hemmer, feller, gauge, oil can, extra needles, full directions, &c., from $66 to $150.

Barnum's Self-Sewer for all Sewing Machines,
Guides the work itself, avoiding the bent posture and strain on the eyes. Price $1.50. Large discount to Agents.

We take other machines in exchange. We sell OIL, CORROD, SILK, Twine and Nainsook for every kind of Sewing Machine.

Agents Wanted.—Terms to Agents, descriptive circulars and specimens of work, sent free by mail, on receipt of stamp, or had of

L. CORNELL & CO., Gen'l Ag'ts,

UNITED STATES LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

No. 40 WALL STREET, N. Y.

JOSEPH B. COLLINS, President.

W. D. Babbitt, Gen'l Agent of Illinois,

Office 122 MONROE STREET.

Assets nearly 2,000,000.

NEW AND IMPORTANT PLANS OF LIFE INSURANCE,

Originally established by this Company.

Policy Holders in this Company can use or apply their dividends in a greater variety of ways than is afforded to Policy Holders by any other Company.

Important Facts Relative to the U. S. Life Insurance Co.

The reserve Cash Fund, for re-insurance, is the largest known to, or required by, the ablest and most experienced authorities in Life Insurance, its assets to liabilities being larger than any of the leading Companies—see last official report of Massachusetts Insurance Companies.

The business is conducted on the CASH system, with the privilege to the assured of
A LIBERAL LOAN SYSTEM WHEN REQUIRED.

No personal securities or notes are taken in excess of the security afforded by the policies. Values of policies paid in cash, or in paid up insurance, at the option of the assured, after two years.

A liberal non-forfeiture system as to whole Life or Endowment policies.

New Proposals for Self-Endowing Policies.

The Dividends may also be applied, after three full years have expired, to convert WHOLE LIFE POLICIES into SELF-ENDOWING POLICIES, the party continuing to pay only the ordinary Life Rate. Thus with a 40 per cent. Dividend, persons entering at the age of

| 20 | will receive the sum insured on attaining the age of 57 years. |
| 30 | " " " " " " 60 "                                               |
| 40 | " " " " " " 63 "                                               |
| 50 | " " " " " " 66 "                                               |
| 55 | " " " " " " 71 "                                               | and the premiums paid by the insured will, at the several ages, be as follows:

|                                            |                                            |
|--------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------|
| Age 20, cannot make more than 87 payments. | Age 50, cannot make more than 18 payments. |
| " 30, " " " 80 "                           | " 55, " " " 16 "                           |
| " 40, " " " 83 "                           |                                            |

All current Dividends may be converted on the above principle.

NEW PROPOSALS FOR PAYING UP POLICIES FOR THE RELIEF OF OLD AGE.

Persons insured upon the Annual Premium Rate for the whole of Life, after three full years have expired, may convert their Policies into PAYING-UP POLICIES, on an entirely NEW and ADVANTAGEOUS Plan.

The Dividends are applied to make the Premiums cease altogether at the earliest age consistent with safety. Thus, with a 40 per cent. dividend, persons entering at the age of

|                                         |                                         |
|-----------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------|
| 20 have to pay only 20 years' premiums. | 50 have to pay only 14 years' premiums. |
| 30 " " " 19 " " "                       | 55 " " " 13 " " "                       |
| 40 " " " 16 " " "                       |                                         |

And they will receive PAID-UP POLICIES as follows:

Age 20.. at Age 89 | Age 30.. at Age 48 | Age 40.. at Age 55 | Age 50.. at Age 63 | Age 55.. at Age 67 on paying the premium then due, which is the last required—the sum insured being paid at death, with the dividends declared after the policy is paid up.

All current Dividends may be converted on the above principle.

Before deciding what kind of Lightning Conductor you will have applied to your Buildings, read Brittan's Pamphlet, which is furnished to all on application.

NATHAN BRITTAN.

JACOB A. KISSELL.

(From the Chicago Tribune, June 8, 1866.)

BRITTAN'S LIGHTNING CONDUCTOR. An Important and Satisfactory Endorsement.

A short time since we stated that the Chicago University, by the unanimous action of its Board of Trustees, had decided to place Brittan's Lightning Conductor on the University Buildings. This action was taken by the Board after a critical examination of the merits of this Conductor, and with a decided prejudice against it at the commencement of the investigation. The work has been completed by Mr. Brittan and on Saturday last, it underwent a thorough examination by the Faculty of the University, who presented Mr. Brittan with the following unqualified endorsement at the conclusion of their labors. This certificate fully substantiates the opinion we have heretofore frequently expressed as to the unqualified merits of these conductors. Upon this point there is now hardly room for discussion.

The following is the certificate of the Faculty of Chicago University:

CERTIFICATE.

This is to certify that the Lightning Conductor known as "Brittan's Continuous Copper Strip Conductor," has been applied to the buildings of the University of Chicago, after a very careful examination of its merits both by the Faculty and Members of the Board of Trustees. We believe that the two distinguishing features of Brittan's Rod, viz: its presentation of a broader and continuous surface of metal, and its non-insulation are based on scientific principles, and give superiority to this rod over every other. The manner of the application of the rod to the building is most careful and thorough, and the whole job executed to our highest satisfaction.

UNIVERSITY OF CHICAGO, June 8, 1866.

THE AETNA Sewing Machines,

MANUFACTURED BY

PLAHER, BRAUNSDORF & CO.

For family and manufacturing purposes has received the

HIGHEST PREMIUMS AND MEDALS

in Europe and America, for their excellence over all competitors.

SIMPLICITY

Is one of its principal features; any person can learn to work it with the greatest facility, and in less time than any other Machine.

THE AETNA is elegant in design and finish.

IT IS NOISELESS,

Runs with ease and great rapidity, thus having a great advantage over all others.

THE NEEDLE

Is straight, and in stitching any fabric is not liable to be broken, as in other Machines, having a PATENT SHIELD to protect it. This is a great saving in the single item of needles, to say nothing of the annoyance avoided.

THE THREAD.

It uses any kind of thread, even the most flimsy, without breaking, and CONSUMES LESS than any other Machine.

THE STITCH

Is locked, presenting the same appearance on both sides, and the sewing it performs is unsurpassed by any other process extant—it sews every thickness and variety of material without re-adjustment.

The AETNA is the only noiseless Shuttle Machine in existence.

In Seaming, Quilting, Hemming, Felling, Tucking, Braiding, Cording, Binding and Gathering, it stands without a rival. Manufacturing Machines especially adapted for Tailors, Boot and Shoe Makers, Carriage Trimmers, Saddlers and manufacturing purposes generally.

We cordially invite inspection, feeling confident our Machine will compare favorably with any in the market.

Binding Guages, Hemmers, Braiders, Shuttles, Bobbins, Needles and Oils; also a large assortment of Machine Twist and Thread of all kinds constantly on hand.

☛ Send for Circular and terms to Agents.

DIMENSIONS.

The dimensions are 272 feet front, 227 deep, and 112 high, with six lofty stories exclusive of attic and basement stories.

PUBLIC APARTMENTS.

The public apartments are the Gentlemen's ordinary, 116 by 44 feet; Ladies' ordinary 65 by 44 feet; lower vestibule, 92 by 63 feet; upper vestibule 62 by 43 feet; reading room, 98 by 30 feet; bar room, 60 by 41 feet; billiard room, 63 by 43 feet; Ladies' drawing room, 40 by 30 feet, with others correspondingly spacious, including twelve parlors, all superbly furnished and frescoed.

CONVENIENCES AND ARRANGEMENTS.

Five hundred chambers, single and in suites, are perfectly supplied for the comfort of guests, and unequalled for ventilation and light. Among numerous modern conveniences is a steam elevator exclusively for passengers' use. The arrangements of the culinary, laundry and general departments and appliances for conveying water and heat throughout the house, are of the most ample description and of the best approved patterns. Thirty thousand yards of fine carpeting, covering the corridors and floors, and the furniture and table ware were manufactured to order by the celebrated European and Eastern manufacturers. Whole cost of the building, ground and furnishing $1,500,000. The lessees have had more than twenty years' experience in serving the public in their present vocation.

The business of the Company is to INSURE AGAINST ACCIDENTS of all kinds, whether by Traveling or otherwise.

This Company issues two classes of Policies. One to secure the payment of a fixed sum in case of death caused by any kind of accident. The other secures a weekly allowance in case of injury causing total disability, and a fixed sum in case of death from accident.

The annual premium varies according to the occupation of the insured.

ORDINARY RISKS are those of the general public, as professional men, merchants, manufacturers, bankers, clerks, and all those who follow an occupation not in itself hazardous to life or limb.

Annual premium on $5,000 (without compensation,) $15. With compensation of $25 per week in case of injury, $25. Smaller amounts insured at corresponding rates.

SPECIAL RISKS are those of conductors, architects, builders, masons, bricklayers, carpenters, house painters, and mechanics generally, drovers, horse and cattle dealers, millers, policemen.

Annual premium on $5,000, without compensation, is $18.75. With compensation, $30. A person insuring against DEATH ONLY, secures to his family the sum for which he insures if he is killed, provided the death occurs within THREE months from date of the injury. If he sustains injury he receives no compensation.

If against DEATH, WITH COMPENSATION, the insured secures the amount for which he insures to his family in the event of his death, and in case of personal injury the amount stipulated until he is able to attend to his affairs, but not in any case more than 26 weeks.

GENERAL ACCIDENTS include the Traveling Risk, and also all forms of dislocations, sprains, broken bones, bruises, cuts, gunshot wounds, burns and scalds, bites of dogs, assaults by burglars, robbers and murderers, the action of lightning or sunstroke, the effects of explosion, floods and suffocation, by drowning or choking, when such accidental injury is the cause of death within three months of the happening of the injury or the insured is unable to follow his usual vocation.

The Rates of Premium are Very Low, and within the Reach of all.

THE PLAN IS SO SIMPLE THAT ALL ARE ABLE TO UNDERSTAND ITS WORKINGS.

NO MEDICAL EXAMINATION IS REQUIRED.

FARMS IN ILLINOIS.
900,000 ACRES
 OF THE
BEST FARMING LANDS,
 FOR SALE BY THE
ILLINOIS CENTRAL RAILROAD COMPANY,
 IN TRACTS TO SUIT PURCHASERS,
AT LOW PRICES.

The Illinois Central Railroad extends from Dunleith, in the northwestern part of the State, to Cairo, in the extreme southern part, with a branch from Centralia, one hundred and thirteen miles north of Cairo, to Chicago, on the shore of Lake Michigan—altogether a length of 704 miles—and the land which is offered for sale is situated on either side of the track, in no instance at a greater distance than fifteen miles.

Illinois.

The rapid development of Illinois, its steady increase in population and wealth, and its capacity to produce cheap food, are matters for wonder and admiration. The United States Commissioner of Agriculture estimates the amounts of the principal crops of 1864, for the whole country, as follows: Indian corn, 530,581,403 bushels; Wheat, 160,695,823 bushels; Oats, 176,690,064 bushels; of which the farms of Illinois yielded 138,356,135 bushels of Indian corn, 83,371,173 bushels of wheat, and 24,273,751 bushels of oats,—in reality more than one-fourth of the corn, more than one-fifth of the wheat, and almost one-seventh of the oats produced in all the United States.

Grain---Stock Raising.

Pre-eminently the first in the list of grain-exporting States, Illinois is also the great cattle State of the Union. Its fertile prairies are well adapted by nature to the raising of cattle, sheep, horses and mules; and in the important interest of pork packing it is far in advance of every other State. The seeding of those prairie lands to tame grasses for pasturage or hay, offers to farmers with capital the most profitable results. The hay crop of Illinois in 1864 is estimated at 2,166,725 tons, which is more than half a million tons larger than the crop of any other State, excepting only New York.

Cotton, Tobacco, Flax.

The cultivation of tobacco and cotton in Southern Illinois has been largely stimulated by the high prices which have prevailed since the outbreak of the rebellion. The crop of tobacco in this State, for 1864, is set down at 18,867,722 lbs.; and while the returns from the cotton-growing counties are incomplete, they are yet sufficient to show a large increase in the product—the most careful calculation placing the increase at fifty per cent. Sorghum is now classed among the staples of Illinois. The making of sugar from the beet is receiving some attention, and experiments upon a large scale will be made during the coming season. Hemp and flax are grown in almost every part of the State, and of a quality equal to the best European.

Fruit.

Almost all the fruits of the temperate latitude are produced in Illinois. Peaches, pears, plums, strawberries, and every variety of garden vegetables, are produced in great abundance in the central and southern districts of the State, and are supplied to Chicago, St. Louis and Cincinnati, the excellent railway facilities insuring a quick market in all these places.

Coal and Lead.

The mineral wealth of Illinois exceeds computation. Its lead mines are as rich as any hitherto discovered. Immense coal deposits are mined at various points contiguous to the railroad. Quarries of fine limestone are found in various localities; and iron, copper and zinc are among the mineral treasures as yet barely touched.

Lumber.

While Illinois is destitute of pine, the forests abound in oak, cypress, black walnut and poplar; and in Southern Illinois the lumbering business is a large and profitable one. Many saw mills are in operation near the railway stations, and building materials are furnished at extremely low rates. For several years Chicago has ranked as the cheapest as well as one of the largest lumber markets of the country, water communication being direct with the great pine districts of the North.

Inducements to Settlers.

The attention of persons, whose limited means forbid the purchase of a homestead in the older States, is particularly invited to these lands. Within ten years the Illinois Central Railroad Company has sold 1,400,000 acres, to more than 20,000 actual settlers; and during the last year 264,422 acres,—a larger aggregate of sales than in any one year since the opening of the road. The farms are sold in tracts of forty or eighty acres, suited to the settler with limited capital, or in larger tracts, as may be required by the capitalist and stock raiser. The soil is of unsurpassed fertility; the climate is healthy; taxes are low; churches and schools are becoming abundant throughout the length and breadth of the State; and communication with the great markets is made easy through railroads, canals and rivers.

It should be borne in mind that these lands are offered at only a slight advance over the gold-standard price which prevailed previous to 1862, while in the meantime the price of grain, and indeed of all agricultural products has largely increased.

Prices and Terms of Payment.

The price of lands varies $9 to $15 and upwards per acre, and they are sold on short credit, or for cash. A deduction of TEN PER CENT. from the credit price is made to those who purchase for cash.

EXAMPLE.

Forty acres at $10 per acre, on short credit, the Principal, one-quarter cash down—balance, one, two, and three years, at six per cent. interest, in advance, each year.

|                          | INTEREST. | PRINCIPAL. |                           | INTEREST. | PRINCIPAL. |
|--------------------------|-----------|------------|---------------------------|-----------|------------|
| Cash Payment.....        | $18.00   | $100.00   | Payment in two years..... | $6 00    | $100.00   |
| Payment in one year..... | 12.00     | 100.00     | " " three " .....         |           | 100.00     |

The same Land may be Purchased for $360 in cash.

Full information on all points, together with maps, showing the exact location of Lands, will be furnished on application, in person or by letter, to
